This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INTRODUCTION.

In 1872, the Register of Walter Gray, Archbishop of York, 1215-1255, appeared as one of the publications of this Society, forming Volume LVI. of the series, under the editorship of the then Secretary, the late Canon Raine. Of the two succeeding archbishops, Sewall de Boville, 1256-1258, and Godfrey de Ludham, 1258-1264, no registers are extant, nor is there any trace that any ever existed. The Register of Walter Giffard, who was the next archbishop, and presided over the Northern Province from 1266 to 1279, is printed in this volume.

As Canon Raine in his Fasti Eboracenses (i. 302-317) has given a very full account of the life of this prelate, to which the editor of this volume can add little, and as Giffard had no special connection with the Northern Province previous to his translation to York, it will be more convenient, with a view to save room, to give merely a brief outline of the earlier portion of his career, and to devote the space thus gained to a study of the more important matters referred to in his register.

Walter Giffard was the son, probably the eldest son, of Hugh Giffard of Boyton, in Wiltshire, a man of rank and wealth, and Sibilla, daughter and coheiress of Walter de Cormeilles. Except that he himself tells us that he was educated at Cambridge[1] nothing is known about him previous to his elevation to the bishopric of Bath and Wells, to which he was elected on May 22nd, 1264. In the next year he was made Lord Chancellor of England, and, whilst holding that office, had a large share in promoting different remedial measures for the pacification of the country, which had fallen into a state of deplorable confusion after the death of Simon de Montfort. Many of the documents relating to these measures have been printed in the Letters from Northern Registers. His next promotion was to the primacy of the Northern Province. A considerable interval had elapsed since the death of Godfrey of Ludham, the previous archbishop, which occurred on Jan. 12th, 1264-5. John of Langton, or Rotherfield, Dean of York, was elected on March 12th following, but his election was set aside by the pope, Clement IV., who by a bull[2], dated Nov. 24th, 1265, nominated Boniface, the head of the Friars Minor, and afterwards known as the Seraphic Doctor. Boniface, however, refused to accept the dignity, and the pope promoted Walter Giffard by a papal provision, dated Oct. 15th, 1266. He was enthroned on Nov. 1st,[3] and obtained restitution of the temporalities on Dec. 26th following. He died on April 25th, 1279,[1] and was interred in the Minster, probably in the choir. His brother, Godfrey Giffard, bishop of Worcester, was his heir.[2]

His register comprises 146 folios of parchment (11 × 7), and six insertions, all written in a contemporary hand. At the commencement is a brief index written on paper, compiled by the antiquary Torre, towards the close of the seventeenth century. To him also is due the pagination throughout. Till last year the register was encased in a slight parchment cover, but it is now substantially bound in half Morocco by Messrs. Eyre and Spottiswoode, bookbinders to the British Museum, and the manuscript has thus been rendered secure from injury. The volume is divided into two portions, the second commencing at p. 253. It had originally been used by Giffard as his register when bishop of Bath and Wells, and the portion relating to that diocese has been printed in Volume xiii. of the Somerset Record Series, which appeared in 1899. In editing this register it has been found convenient to give all formal documents, such as institutions, briefly in English. All other documents are given in full, except those of a public character, which have been printed elsewhere, or those which relate to local affairs or persons, which have already appeared in the publications of this Society. Numbers have been prefixed to the documents to facilitate reference.

This register, though much fuller than that of Archbishop Gray, is very far from perfect. The long periods of time for which there is no record show that a great deal must have been omitted. The earliest date is Jan. 24, 1266-7 (No. 283), and the earliest record of any official act performed within the diocese is dated at Cawood, on May 20, 1267 (No. 60), although the archbishop did not come permanently into residence until the autumn of that year. Up to the close of 1272 the entries are numerous enough to render it possible to compile a fairly complete itinerary of the archbishop during that period. He was often absent from his diocese, as for example from Dec. 1, 1269, till Aug. 16 in the year following, besides other briefer periods, when he was engaged on public affairs. Although he seems to have resigned the office of Lord Chancellor when he was made archbishop, he still continued a member of the royal council, which necessitated his frequent presence in London and the South of England. In consequence of his holding this official position a number of documents of a more or less public character have been entered on the pages of his register. The more important of these have been printed by the late Canon Raine in Letters from Northern Registers, and the third volume of Historians of the Church of York, both of which appeared in the Rolls Series. After the death of Henry III., the archbishop acted as one of the regents of the kingdom till the return to England of his successor, Edward I., in August, 1274. This accounts for the fewness of the entries after 1272. It is interesting to note that Giffard was in London between Oct. 13, 1272 (No. 269), and the end of January following (Nos. 275, 40), probably awaiting the impending death of Henry III., which happened on Nov. 16, and afterwards taking part in providing for the quiet succession of Edward. From the last of these entries, with the exception of a single entry on July 25, 1273 (No. 41), when the archbishop was at Theyden (probably one of the places of that name in Essex), the register is silent concerning his movements till Sept. 23, 1274, when we find him again in his diocese at Scrooby (No. 863, p. 286).[1] Apart from his official duties in England, absence in foreign parts abroad kept him away from his diocese. On Feb. 28, 1274, he had letters of protection whilst beyond the seas (Calendar of Patent Rolls (1272-1281), p. 44); and an entry on the Close Rolls[2] shews that the object of his journey was to attend the Council of Lyons. This very important Council, known as the Fourteenth General Council, sat from May 7 to July 17 in 1274, and effected a temporary reconciliation between the Greek and Roman

[1] According to No. 800, the Archbishop executed a deed at Hexham, on August 20, 1274, but this is contradicted by No. 851, from which it would appear he was still in London.

Churches. The archbishop also had letters of protection whilst he was abroad on Feb. 5, 1275 (Calendar of Patent Rolls (1272-1281), p. 78).

The state of confusion which prevailed in the kingdom at large is reflected in this register, for its arrangement is in many respects chaotic, falling far short of the systematic arrangement introduced by Archbishop Romanus (1285-1296). Many important portions of the diocese are entirely ignored. The first heading for the Archdeaconry of Richmond (p. 37), contains no entry relating thereto, and when it occurs the second time (p. 289), only a single entry. The information as to the Peculiars, such as Southwell, Ripon, Beverley, Hexham, and St. Oswald's, Gloucester, instead of being gathered together into separate sections, as is the case with later registers, is scattered through the volume, and is very meagre. Little is told about the dependent sees of Durham and Carlisle, and only place in the latter which is referred to is Caldbeck (No. 351).

The unsettled condition of the country is shewn also by the number of claimants of the same living. To the church of Adlingfleet, which had belonged to John de Eyvile, one of Simon de Montfort's adherents, there were five presentations or collations made by ten different persons, and for Stonegrave there were three applicants. The tribunal by means of which the archbishop made inquiry concerning the title of the patron and the fitness of the presentee was composed of members of the rural deanery in which the church alleged to be vacant was situated, and good examples of such inquisitions are found in Nos. 125 and 170, taken on vacancies at Gargrave and Rillington. But this most interesting class of document occurs only in the first part of this volume. The presentee seems to have appeared in person at the inquisition, as in one case (No. 291) his age was judged from his personal appearance. Many of the presentees were in minor orders. In the case of a vacancy at West Retford (Nos. 298, 303), one of the presentees was an acolyte and the other had received only the first tonsure. In each case the patrons were of high rank, Sir Henry of Almaine, nephew of the King, and Prince Edward, afterwards King Edward I. The archbishop himself set a bad example, as he conferred the archdeaconry of York on his brother, Godfrey Giffard, afterwards Bishop of Worcester, while only in minor orders and in possession of many other benefices (p. 10). At Bossall it appears that William of Rotherfield, probably a relative of the Dean of York, though only in subdeacon's orders, was beneficed elsewhere (No. 164).

To obviate the scandal which would have arisen if persons not duly qualified were permitted to hold livings, it was the archbishop's custom to command the presentee to come to the next ordination, and in the meantime to commit the custody of the living to some suitable person nominated by himself. Cases of this kind occurred at Linton, Bransby, and Treswell. At Skipton-in-Craven (No. 589) the archbishop refused to institute Stephen of Bradley, presented by the prior and convent of Bolton, on the ground that he was all but totally illiterate (fere totaliter illiterato), and collated Nicholas of Fangfoss. By order of Cardinal Otto, who had been legate in England in 1237, all vicars were required to proceed to the priesthood within a year after their institution (No. 711). The archbishop strictly enforced this rule, and in one case (No. 711) he deprived an incumbent who failed to comply with it.

In addition to these matters the members of the inquisition were required to express their opinion as to the fitness of the presentee to perform the duties of the living to which he had been presented. Their reports were almost universally favourable,—"Quo ad mores, etatem, et scienciam laudabile perhibetur testimonium," or "Est ydoneus, legitimus, et bone et honeste conversationis" is the usual form. The Nottinghamshire inquisitors were very cautious in some cases (Nos. 292, 294, 298) in expressing an opinion, and qualified what they had to say concerning the presentee's fitness by adding, "Quantum humana fragilitas scire permittit," thus admitting they might be mistaken. The value of the living and the different burdens to which it was subject were also duly ascertained.

Besides enforcing the rule that beneficed clergy should be ordained priests, the archbishop endeavoured as far as he could to put a stop to plurality, which then and for long afterwards was a crying scandal. In a list of articles (No. 824), as to which certain commissaries were appointed to make inquiries, in 1275, the question of plurality occupied the first place, and in an earlier, but undated, mandate (No. 748), he directed that offenders in this matter should be cited before him, to produce their dispensations to hold more than one benefice if they had any. With Bogo de Clare, a son of the Earl of Gloucester and Hertford, and one of the most notorious pluralists of the age, the archbishop was unsuccessful in his attempts to eject him from some of his numerous livings, notably from Adlingfleet, which was still in Clare's possession in the time of Giffard's successor, William Wickwane. In one place (p. 11) Clare is said to have been in possession of over thirty benefices, though he had no dispensation to hold them, and was totally unfitted to do so from defect in age, orders, and knowledge. Another high-born pluralist, William Percy, not content with holding many churches with cure of souls without any dispensation, lived like a soldier, ran after the Court in a shameless manner, and filled many offices forbidden by the Canon Law to clerks (No. 822). Master John Clarell, rector of Hooton Roberts (No. 133), is another instance of the extent of this evil. When he was already in possession of six churches and a prebend, he obtained a dispensation to hold an additional church with cure of souls.

Difficult as it was for the archbishop to cope with

pluralists of native birth, he found those of foreign origin quite invincible. Quartered on the diocese by the Pope himself, they were all furnished with dispensations, so that the archbishop could not eject them. The number of foreigners holding preferment in the diocese was very considerable. In his own cathedral five prebends were in their hands (Nos. 71, 143, 579, 902, and p. 94[n]), and two others were claimed by them (Nos. 636, 753), in addition to an annual pension of one hundred marks from the prebends of Warthill and Newbald, due to Cardinal Ottobonus (No. 24). An Italian held the important office of Archdeacon of Cleveland (No. 358); and the sacristan of the richly endowed chapel of St. Mary and the Angels, to which thirteen parish churches, distant and remote from one another, were annexed, was in the possession of another Italian, a brother of the legate Ottobonus (Nos. 579, 580). To keep in with the Roman Curia the archbishop had to pay from his own resources an annual pension of ten marks to the Archdeacon of Agde, in the South of France (No. 38). At Ripon (No. 579), one prebend was held by a foreigner, and at Southwell (No. 317), two of the prebends were subject to a charge of fifty marks a year in favour of the Pope's nephew, Adenulf, who later on (No. 356) was authorised by the Pope to receive the whole of the income arising from his benefices in this country, notwithstanding any custom or statute which provided that absentees should only receive half, or some fixed portion. It would be interesting to find out how this disagreement between the Pope's licence and the law of the realm was settled. The churches of Skipwith, Fishlake, Felixkirk, and High Hoyland[1] were all held by aliens (Nos. 357, 606, 649, 901).

Even with the officials of native birth the archbishop had some difficulty in maintaining friendly relations. His chancellor, William Wickwane, who afterwards succeeded him in the archbishopric, accused him of encroaching upon his rights and robbing him of certain fees pertaining to his office (No. 145). With the Archdeacon of Cleveland, who was a foreigner, as is mentioned above, it was not to be expected that his relations would be cordial. According to the archbishop's statement (No. 351), the archdeacon treated him very ungratefully. He had always been the archdeacon's friend, and he was astonished to find him accusing him to the Pope. Although this friction existed between them, the archbishop attached great weight to the archdeacon's opinion, and in one case, wrote a special letter to ask his advice on a matter of difficulty (No. 650). The most troublesome dignitary with whom Giffard had to deal was the Archdeacon of Nottingham, Thomas de Wyten, who had to be publicly admonished to be obedient (No. 43).

Money difficulties were amongst the most pressing of the troubles by which the archbishop was harassed. Obtaining the pall from Rome must have been a very costly proceeding (No. 580A), and, although the Pope, with the object of lightening the burden of debt on his church, allowed him to retain the first fruits of vacant livings, and a quarter of the fruits of the churches, dignities, and prebends in his collation (No. 45), money had more than once to be borrowed for the purpose of expediting his business at the Roman Curia (Nos. 36, 444, 629).

The archbishop found that borrowing money to pay the expenses of his proctors at the Court of Rome was like falling into a whirlpool of usury (usurarum vorago) (No. 444). He was weighed down not only by his own debts, but by those of his predecessor; and when he was seeking the good offices of one of the cardinals, he made his poverty an excuse for the smallness of his gift, praying that regard should be paid rather to the good will of the sender than to the scantiness of the present (No. 575). As time went on his position grew worse. In the spring of 1270 all his means were exhausted, both his official income and that derived from his patrimonial estates, and he was so deeply in debt that it was impossible for him to visit the Apostolic See (No. 601). In three undated letters which occur in the register immediately after the one last mentioned, the same tale is repeated. Everything was against him. Things were going from bad to worse. Quarrels, fears of future disturbance, and the burden of debt, brought him many sleepless nights. A couple of years later (No. 463) he was forced to plead for time in which to pay his debts, and suggested as a means to relieve the pressure, that some of them should be transferred to the dean and chapter. This continued lack of ready money necessitated frequent recourse to Italian merchants from Lucca, Siena, and Florence, the great money lenders of that age. In the summer of 1275, he still owed 648*li.* to some Lucca merchants (No. 853). This is the latest entry in the register relating to the subject of borrowing money, but it is very improbable that his financial embarrassments altogether ceased then. While the archbishop could fairly plead that his pecuniary troubles were due to debts incurred by his predecessors, hard times, and the exactions of the Curia, there were other causes contributing to his impoverishment, for which he was himself responsible. One of the chief of these was his liberality. To his own relations he was a most generous friend. He paid his mother's debts in 1268 (No. 397), made presents to Agatha Giffard (Nos. 458, 503), and gave 60*li.* to J. Giffard (No. 458), probably a sister and brother. His other sisters were treated in an equally generous manner. Maude paid him a visit in 1268, which cost him 55*s.* 5*d.* (No. 533). Alice de Mandeville, who seems to have been his favourite sister, constantly received pecuniary tokens of his love (Nos. 424, 503, 527, 531), besides a belt worth 40*s.*, and 33*s.* 4*d.* for the expense of her journey from

Digitized by Google

Guilford to Churchdown (No. 458). His affection for her was so great that even her nurse shared in his largesse (No. 503). His nephews, Hugh de Babington and Robert de Escote, who was probably a son of Lady L. de Escote, to whom the archbishop made a present of 100*s.* (No. 458), were appointed to positions of trust about his person (Nos. 501, 850, 396). His method of providing for his brother Godfrey, by appointing him to the archdeaconry of Cleveland, has been already mentioned.[1] The relative whose later career best justified the archbishop's generosity was William of Greenfield, who occupied the See of York, 1304-1315. Canon Raine in his Fasti Eboracenses (p. 362) states that Greenfield was connected with the Giffard family, but does not give the exact relationship. The archbishop seems to have defrayed his expenses at Oxford, whither he had already gone in the summer of 1269 (No. 490), and where he still was in the November of the following year (No. 503). To enable his relative to maintain himself in a suitable manner he conferred on him a prebend in Southwell Minster, on Dec. 29, 1269 (No. 353), which he resigned for one in Ripon in 1272 (No. 259), This last he still possessed at the end of 1275 (No. 838), the latest mention of his name in this register. Another future archbishop, Master John le Romeyn, participated in his bounty, receiving a sum of 13*li.*

[1] No mention is made of another brother, William Giffard, who was sheriff of Norfolk and Suffolk, 54 Henry III. to 2 Edward I., and died before 1275 (Calendar of Close Rolls (1272-1279), p. 172). Of his sister, Mabel, who was successively abbess of Elstow and Shaftesbury, there is only one notice, and that not favourable (No. 612).

6*s.* 8*d.*, part of a debt due to the archbishop at Paris, so that Romeyn may have taken his degree at that University (No. 503), a supposition which is rendered more likely by the fact that the archbishop paid 12*d.* to the beadle of the English Nation in that University (No. 458).

The same kindly spirit appears in a grant of considerable value, made to an old family servant (No. 560). It is true that this grant is crossed out; but a gift of 7*li.* 3*s.* 0*d.* for silk and linen was probably made as a consolation (No. 503). Gifts to his chaplain, his washerwoman, and his barber were all prompted by the same kindly feeling (Nos. 396, 458, 503).

The archbishop's household expenses were very heavy. The separate items are not given, only the general term, household expenses, and it is possible that there are omissions. The following are sums total for three years, during which the accounts seem to be fairly complete :—

Even this large sum does not by any means represent the real cost the archbishop was put to for housekeeping. Most of the provisions would be furnished from his different estates, and so would cost nothing in actual money. It is to be feared that this lavish expenditure must have greatly embarrassed the archbishop, who was already deeply indebted, not only on his own account for expenses incurred at his installation and at the Roman Curia for obtaining the pall and for other matters relating to the See, but also for obligations for which his predecessors had made him liable.

There is one very important class of documents in which the York registers are very rich, namely, the visitations by the archbishop of different religious houses in his diocese. In this register are recorded visitations by Giffard's predecessors, Walter Gray and Godfrey Ludham, of the Augustinian Priories of St. Oswald at Gloucester, and Newburgh; and by Giffard himself of Bolton, Felley, and Newburgh, all of the same Order, and also of the house of Cistercian Nuns at Swine. The great Benedictine house of St. German at Selby, after St. Mary's, York, the most important monastic settlement North of the Trent, reveals a very low state of morals (No. 919). The abbot, and more than one of the inmates, were strongly suspected of immorality. "Fetidissimus" is the adjective very aptly applied to Black Alexander, one of the monks. At the dependent cell of Snaith matters were little better. Of the clerks ministering in the church two were married. The parish priest, some sixteen years previously, had kept a concubine by whom he had had issue, but for some time past he had been of good behaviour. There were stories about a monk from Selby, Thomas Gundale, but nothing was proved against him (No. 918).

In the smaller nunneries the chief trouble seems to have been financial, as the inmates were not competent to manage their property, which must have chiefly consisted of farms which they kept in hand. In four cases, Basedale, Hampole, Handale, and Nunkeeling, the archbishop was obliged to appoint guardians or stewards (yconomi), generally monks from neighbouring monasteries, whose duty it was to bring the affairs of the house into good order.

The ordination list for Michaelmas, 1268, is the earliest existing. There is no record of another occurring before 1842, when Zouche was archbishop.

There are sulphur casts of two seals of Archbishop Giffard in the British Museum. The first (LIX. 9) is from a chipped impression. Obverse—2½ in. by 1½ in. Pointed oval. The archbishop stands on a small bracket or corbel, full length, lifting up the right hand in benediction, in the left a pastoral staff. + WALTERVS DEI GRACIA EBORACEN' ECC'E MINISTER. The letters 'OR' of 'Eboracen' are conjoined. Reverse. — A counterseal. A smaller pointed oval, 1⅝ in. by 1 in. The impression of an ancient gem, about ⅝ in. by ½ in. Fortune draped, standing to the left, holding in the right hand a winged Victory, and in the left a shield, + AVE MARIA PLENA.

The other example (LIX. 11) is a pointed oval (3¼ by 2in.). The archbishop on a finely carved Gothic corbel, with embroidered vestments, full length, lifting up the right hand in benediction; in the left hand a crozier. Overhead a small canopy of Gothic architecture, nearly entirely destroyed. In the field, on either side, a small niche, resting on a carved corbel, and having a pointed roof with crocketing, topped with a cross, that on the left containing St. Paul, with sword and book, that on the right, St. Peter, with keys and book, both full length. +WALTERVS : DEI : GR'A : ARCHIEP'S : EBORAC : ANGLIE : PRIMAS.

There is also a counterseal of this archbishop (XLIII., 136). Pointed oval ($2\frac{3}{8}$ by $1\frac{1}{2}$in.). The impression of an ancient gem, about $1\frac{1}{2}$in. by 1in. The busts of St. Peter, with short curled hair and beard, and of St. Paul, with longer beard; engraved in intaglio, en médaillon, to the right. In the spaces between the gem and legend at top and bottom two bishops, with hands uplifted in prayer, to the left. SECRETUM DOTANT QUOS DUO SIGNA NOTANT.

Birlay, clericus, presentatus vobis, pater reverende, domine W., Ebor. archiepiscope, Angliæ primas, per dominum Henricum, regem Angliæ ad ecclesiam de Warsop, suppono me et ecclesiam predictam tuicioni et defensioni Sedis Apostolicæ. Et ne aliquid per vos vel auctoritate vestra in prejudicium mei vel ecclesiæ predictæ ad quam sum presentatus, vel eciam in prejudicium dicti domini regis, patroni mei, attemptetur, dominum papam in scriptis appello, et appellationes sive litteras dimissorias peto.

The archb. refused to admit him because the dean of Lincoln had been presented by Sir Rob. de Sutton, knt., and the inquisition had found in his favour.

Nos, vero, licet non contra justiciam sed ex justa et legitima causa ipsum W. ad ecclesiam ipsam admittere recusaverimus, pro eo viz. quod decanus Lincoln.[1] per dom. Robertum de Sutton, militem, presentatus fuerat ad eandem; quem Robertum inquisicio, prout moris est facta verum ejusdem ecclesie dicebat esse patronum, in cujus prejudicium dictum W., ad dictam ecclesiam per dominum regem presentatum, ad eandem admittere non potuimus nec debuimus, donec de jure presentancium plenius foret discussum. Ob superioris, tamen, reverenciam predictis appellacionibus detulimus, et has litteras nostras fieri fecimus loco apostolorum, quibus sigillum nostrum apponi fecimus in test. premissorum. XXIV. 11 kal. Oct., (Sept. 21), 1268. York. Charge by the archbishop with the assent of the chapter of York, and by the counsel of dom. O., S. Adriani diaconus cardinalis, Apostolicæ Sedis tunc in Anglia legatus, in favour of Ancherus, tit. S. Praxedis S. Romanæ Ecclesiæ presbiter cardinalis, of forty marks a year from the prebend of Neubaud, and of sixty marks a year from the prebend of Wetewange, for his life, in lieu of eighty marks a year payable to him under an agreement entered into with archbishop Godfrey (de Ludham) touching the prebend of Wetewange which Ancherus alleged had been assigned to him by the Pope, but which archbishop Godfrey had granted to his own brother. The prebend, which consisted of the church of Nyubaud, was claimed by Master W., chancellor of York.

XXV. Dominica post festum S. Mathei Apostoli (Sept. 23), 1268. W. etc., decano de Notingham, etc. Horrenda nimis piis sensibus et divini plena animadversione judicii relatione plurium intelleximus, quod quidam iniquitatis filii et ministri Satanæ in vigilia Nativitatis B. Virginis prox. preteritæ (Sept. 7), de nocte, ne eorum malicia celo pateret, ad ecclesiam de Barthon in multitudine copiosa manu accedentes armata, ecclesiam ipsam igni concremandam exposuerunt, et demum igne relicto ausu sacrilego in ecclesiam eandem irreverenter irruerunt, valvas et hostia cum securibus et fustibus minutim confringentes, ad festum in quo fiebat respectum non habentes, nec attendentes quod domum Dei decet sanctitudo, cujus inmunitatem quemquam violare non decet. Ne, igitur, dictorum sacrilegorum, si dissimiletur, impietas nos tantæ culpæ participes efficiat, et ne eorundem temeritas, si relinqueretur impunita, ceteris tam perniciosæ presumptionis exemplum derelinquat, vobis mandamus quatinus omnes predictos sacrilegos, et ipsos quorum ope, consilio, vel auxilio tantum facinus perpetratum fuit, in ecclesiis de Notingham et aliis vicinis, ubi videritis expedire, singulis diebus Dominicis et festivis, pulsatis campanis et accensis candelis, publice et sollempniter in genere excommunicetis, et excommunicatos esse denuncietis, donec a nobis de tantæ temeritatis excessu, satisfaccione prehibita, absolucionis beneficium promeruerint optinere.

Lest he should become partner of these sacrilegious persons if their audacity remains unpunished orders the archdeacon to excommunicate them.

of one hundred marks a year, payable by the archbishop and the dean and chapter, at the New Temple, London, in the octave of St. Peter and St. Paul, in lieu of an annual pension of eighty marks alleged to have been granted to the said Ancherus, ex mensa vel ex camera dom. archiepiscopi Ebor., by the authority of letters of provision from Pope Urban IV.,[1] until he be otherwise provided for in the church of York; and about which a suit had arisen between the said cardinal and the archbishop, and also between the same cardinal and Master William, chancellor of York, about the prebend of Newbaud. A fine of ten marks to be paid each time the pension should be in arrears. The cardinal renounced all claim to the said annual pension of eighty marks, the aforesaid provision, and the prebend of Neubaud.

[3] The writer of this letter was probably the proctor of the archbishop for his nominee, the archdeacon of the East Riding, at the Roman Curia, where Bogo de Clare was bringing an action against him touching the church of Adlingfleet, to which he had been presented by his mother, the Countess of Gloucester and Hertford (Nos. 49, 83). The true patron was John de Evile, who had presented the archbishop's brother, Godfrey Giffard, at that time archdeacon of York, and afterwards (1268-1303) bishop of Worcester (No. 48). Evile, also called Eyville and Dayville, who is called by Walter of Hemingburgh (i. 326) "homo callidus et bellator fortis," was one of the chief leaders of the exhæredati after the battle of Evesham, and commanded them when they made their last stand in the isle of Axholme in Lincolnshire. His complicity in this rebellion must have rendered his title to the presentation doubtful, and so, as no legal presentation was made within the time limited by the Lateran Council, the archbishop presented the archdeacon of the East Riding (No. 95). The suit between the archbishop and Bogo de Clare was still undecided in 1275 (No. 825).

emendacionis jugiter recipiet incrementum. Nec sunt litteræ vestræ causæ in tum michi prejudiciales ut illius Adæ de Filleby[1] protervitas predicabat. Protestatus est, tamen, se alias habere litteras a vobis, quas in remissione causæ exhibebit. At, quia noti sunt in Curia mores ejus, de verbis suis, nisi quatenus documentis legitimis constiterit, modicum est curandum. Sane nisus est nuper quandam impetrare litteram nomine commetissæ[2] (sic) contra me, quæ, cum esset in audiencia contradicta, eam absolvi fecit per quendam de suis, ac si esset procurator meus, temporis oportunitate captata. Cumque procuratores mei convictum fraudis adverterent, deposita querela ac veritate cognita, depositus est a procuratoris officio ille qui sic absolvit, et consencientes quoquo modo excommunicacionis sentencia sunt in audiencia publica innodati; super quibus mitto litteram auditoris contradictoriam officiali meo secundum morem curiæ, ut denuncientur excommunicati si qui inventi fuerint littera tali uti pro cometissa (sic) supradicta. Ad hec noveritis quod, inter alia quæ proponit in articulis, dicit se prolaturum quod dominus archiepiscopus appellacioni partis suæ detulit, non solum apposicione sigilli sui, set hiis verbis expressis, Prosequamini in Curia litem vestram, quia amodo non intromittemus nos de negocio isto. Et, licet sigillum non prejudicet, quia in testimonium est appensum, secundum opinionem peritorum, verba proponit falsis probare testibus, quæ certum est vos nullatenus protulisse. Proponit insuper probare, ut in articulis continetur, et in hoc multum figit falsitatis suæ propositum, quod auctoritate constitucionis Legati eratis, et estis, quod absit, a collacione beneficiorum suspensi. Ponit enim quod venerabili patri, domino Wigorniensi episcopo,[3] in minori officio constituto, contulistis archidiaconatum Ebor. Ponit etiam quod multa habuit beneficia ante collacionem hujusmodi sibi factam. Item quod in hiis non fuit secum dispensatum. Item quod in collacione archidiaconi nullam vobis fecistis dispensacionem exhiberi, volens ex hiis convincere quod nec fratri vestro nec michi ecclesiam de Attelingfeld (sic) conferendo usi estis jure vestro. Sed profecto, domine, hec videntur peritis turpia et probosa suffragia, quoniam non de

He alleged he had a letter from you for the adjournment of the case.

Only noticed when supported by documents.

Endeavoured to get a letter from the countess, which he himself got quashed.

The person joining in this deposed from his office of proctor and those using such letter to be excommunicated.

He alleges that the archb. would prosecute the suit at Rome.

Also falsely that you are suspended by the Legate from collation of benefices.

And that the archdeaconry of York was conferred on the bp. of Worcester when in minor orders, already a pluralist.

No dispensation shewn at the archdeacon's collation

All these allegations are worthless but must be answered, or may be hurtful.

jure suo directe agit, sed sic versatur fungendo et imponendo tantis patribus criminosa. Expedit igitur, domine, ut ipsum super hiis argui faciatis, ne sibi sapiens videatur. Possent enim hec in aliis esse noxia quæ in tanto consistorio proponuntur. Valeat paternitas vestra per tempora longiora.

Non expedit vobis habere in Curia procuratorem ad agendum et defendendum, quia ex hoc graviter lesus est prior Giseburniæ, et ego pariter, ex contestione et confessionibus procuratoris vestri, qui, invitis procuratoribus meis, volentibus vos deffendere et totam causam in se suscipere, se ultro optulit tanquam suspectus valde. Sufficit vobis, ut aliis, procurator ad contradicendum et impetrandum, nisi quando habueritis causam, et tunc non sit generalis ad omnem veritatem, set ad illam tantum.

Do not have the same proctor when you are plaintiff as when defendant.

Domine, non vidistis forsitan domini Busonis[1] dispensaciones, cujus procuratores hic proponunt, et cui possetis dicere, cum culpent alii, te me laudare necesse est, at ipse ingratam vicissitudinem vobis reddit. Potestis eciam, si placet, a coepiscopis vestris investigare de beneficiis caute illius Adæ, qui sic proponit, habentis novem vel decem beneficia in diversis diocesibus constituta, et invenietis absque dubio ecclesiam de Alezorp, quam tenet in insula de Haxeholm, Lincoln. dioc., vacantem, quam magna fraude est adeptus; et est de advocacione magistri Hospitalis S. Leonardi Ebor. Expediret etiam illi nobili viro, quod dici sibi faceretis quod non expedit ei tali frui consilio, et hoc videbit in eventu. Indecorum, enim, est talem hominem in tanto consistorio contendere, et quibusdam machinacionibus falsisque suggestionibus alterius beneficium vendicare. Profecto proposuerunt procuratores mei contra eum antiquam veritatem ad Curiam, ex hiis turpibus quæ sua pars proposuit provocati; quia actor primo ponit quod triginta beneficia optinet absque dispensacione, defectum etatis habens, ordinis, et scientiæ; quod absurdum fuerat cuilibet audienti. Et, si permisissem, in Curia fuerunt testes ydonei qui hec probassent; sed distuli, existimans quod vestræ exhortacionis consilio ab iniquo proposito declinabit. Si quid vobis placuerit, michi vestro jubeatis.

Look at the dispensation of Sir Buso. Fo. 5d. And make inquiries about Adam who has got 10 benefices, including the church of Althorpe, which is of the advowson of the Master of St. Leonard's York, who should not use such help.

My proctors assert he has 30 benefices without dispensation being unfitted for them.

Ceterum, quia contra Robertum de Wynton conversum lite diebus aliquantulis prosequta, ipsum optinuimus excommunicacionis vinculo innodari, sicut in actis et sentencia quæ vobis mittimus sub manu publica videbitis plenius contineri, et insuper bona sua potestate regia confiscantur pro debitis non solutis, unde pro Deo ad pacem nostram prosequi studeatis utiliter contra ipsum. Item scimus quod satis vobis innotuit de impetracione archidiaconi Clivèland., qualiter litteras monitorias et cognicionales similiter impetravit, unde nos domino Papæ et ei scribimus veritatem, innocenciam nostram ut convenit excusando, unde oportet quod litteras nostras exhibere curetis uni et alteri temporibus oportunis, et de utriusque voluntate curiosius sciscitari curetis, ut de suo proposito possimus maturius premuniri. Timemus namque quod, si contra nos, quod absit, obtinuerit archidiaconus memoratus, ceteri nos ex inde acrius impugnabunt. Ad hec nuper accepimus quod in causa quæ vertitur inter dilectum filium archidiaconum Estriding. et dom. Bogonem de Clara[1], vos gratis in judicio optulistis ad bonum nostrum, ut credimus. Vellemus, tamen, libenter scire quod sit, quia archidiaconi partem pro viribus cupimus promoveri. De specialibus quidem negociis quæ vobis injunximus impetranda nescimus quid dicere, cum dominus Papa, sicut dicitur, difficilem se exhibeat in graciis concedendis, et eciam non sit facile sibi loqui; ac insuper, sicut intelleximus, plures de nostra provincia, qua nescimus de causa, contra nos in Curia confecere clamores, licet conscienciam nostram senciamus illesam. XLII. Die Sabati prox. post festum S. Leonardi (Nov. 12), 1267. In porticu capellæ dom. archiepiscopi de Cawode. Suit between Bertram Blundus and Gydo, rector of the church of Rampeston, before the archbishop's official, and Master Gilbert de S. Liffardo, auditors. Bertram demands that Gydo, calling himself rector of the church of Rampeston, should fulfil the agreement made in two instruments in the possession of the auditors. Gydo in reply admits that his seal was appended to one of the documents, but alleges that he was ignorant of the clause about the pension, which was omitted in the reading over at the time of sealing; adding that, at the time of making the deed, it was agreed that all prior instruments, if any, should be cancelled. As to the second deed he denies that he agreed to it. Dicit, tamen, quod sigillum eidem appensum est illud vetus quo olim utebatur. Quia, tamen, illud sigillum, postquam illud amiserat, fuit aliquamdiu in alterius potestate, dicit quod per dictum instrumentum nullum sibi poterit prejudicium generari, quod preter voluntatem et suam conscienciam est confectum, ut dicit. Ad cujus tam grandis privationis incomoda evitanda

The Holy Land lately and at the present time especially, seemed to be waste and unable to resist, but He in whose sight it is not hard to save by many or by few, lest it should fall into the enemies' hands, as from our own observation seemed to threaten, chose Prince Edward, as his servant, to deliver that Land, who raised an army for that object, taking all the burden and expense on himself.

He and his brother Edmund sailed to that Land, which in a desperate position before their arrival was protected by their valour.

Exhorts them not to be ungrateful lest they should lose the benefit.

exsurgite promptius in auxilium causæ Cristi, communicate sibi quæ recepistis ab ipso, tenetis et defenditis per eundem, predictorum nobilium ipsius bella gerentium onera subportate. Ad quod vos considerationis specialitas non solum invitat, ut premittitur, set evidenti potius persuasione compellit. Si enim debita meditatione revolvitis quantis, progenitores ipsorum ecclesias vestras libertatum privilegiis muniverunt, quanta liberalitatum largitione dotarunt, nunc-quam tanti beneficii largitores, in predictis nobilibus sanguinis et memoriæ continuatione viventes, in tantæ necessitatis articulo necligetis, nunquam ejus partem ipsis negabitis, quod eis cum testatoris et heredis persona eadem censeatur et utriusque factum idem juris existimatione putetur integrum recepistis, presertim cum eos habituri sitis provide propitios et promptiores vestrorum jurium defensores. In predictis autem dilectis filiis Magistris Raymundo de Nogeriis, capellano nostro, et Petro de Ausona, canonico ecclesiæ B. To avoid this they must promptly help the cause of Christ and assist the nobles waging the war

He reminds them how these nobles' ancestors have endowed their churches and beseeches them not refuse help, as the person of the testator and heir is deemed the same and so they will have more zealous defenders.

He exhorts them after careful thought to help the crusaders liberally.

To give credence to Raymund de Nogeriis and Peter de Ausona, canon of St. Martin of Tours.

Those in authority over God's people should weigh their acts so there should be nothing to offend God or cause offence.

regendo divina providentia ordinantur, actus suos debent tanta maturitate pensare, tanta circumspectionis districtione[1] dirigere, ut nichil inveniatur in eis quod oculos divinæ majestatis offendat, aut inter fideles nimium scandali valeat suscitare. Videat igitur vestra paternitas reverenda, quid divina numina, quid humanæ laudis preconia ex hoc valeant digne fari, quod redditum perpetuum de synodalibus nomine cancellariæ Ebor. ecclesiæ, cujus jura et libertates totis viribus defendere tenemini, michi debitum et a predecessoribus vestris ab antiquo benigne solutum, temporibus vestris, unius termini solutione tantummodo subducta, penitus subtraxistis, immo salva reverentia vestra eandem cancellariam ipso redditu spoliastis. Quod, si sic sub dissimulatione[2] transiret, michi in prejudicium, et dictæ cancellariæ non modicam cederet lesionem, hinc est quod multiplicatis jam per quinquennium precum instantiis preces accumulo, supplicans humiliter et devote quatinus prefatum redditum dudum subtractum restitui ac deinceps sine difficultate vestra dominatio solvi precipiat cum effectu; sic me, si placet, ad pristinum officium revocantes, quem habetis et per Dei gratiam instantius habebitis in reverentia vobis exhibenda precipuum, in devotione fidelem, in serviendi voluntate sollicitum, et ad cuncta beneplacita semper paratum. Quid autem super premissis vestra paternitas duxerit faciendum, michi vestro si placet per latorem presentium plenius innotescat. Valeat paternitas vestra per tempora longiora.

Complains that he has not been paid, except once, the rent from the synodals due to him from his chancellorship of which the archb. has robbed him.

Cannot pass it by in silence, so renews his prayer, which he had been making for five years that the archb. will cause his rent to be restored.

Universis (etc. ut supra), Walterus, permissione divina etc., salutem in omnium Salvatore. Ad perpetuam et meritoriam rei memoriam et in honore et nomine ejusdem Salvatoris, Amen. Affectiones et liberales motus misericordiæ qui pertingere non sufficiunt ad finem felicitatis et efficaciam preconceptam, opem consolationis et gratiam præ impotentia et inopia hujusmodi pie deposcunt et merentur propitius prepotentum. Ad sinceram siquidem mentem misericordiæ reducentes quanta, quamquam hilaris et grata, hospitalitas, honorificentia et sustentatio pauperibus depressis, divitibus hospitibus et captivis in acceptabili Deo domo Hospitalis Jerusolomitani hactenus effluxerit crebroque succrescit, ingenti exultatione et gaudio gratulamur. Attendentes insuper quam prona, constans et largiflua liberalitas i[m]mineret multipharie in domo predicta, si votis corresponderet opulentia temporalis, nos super ipsius domus, salutiferis affectibus et reluctantibus inopiis ex compassionis visceribus acrius commovemur, jugiter etiam revolvimus et attente, ac frequenti libramine summam liberalitatem quam dictæ domus fratres Hospitalarii exhibent ponderamus. Nos igitur ad gratam et spontaneam subsidii augmentationem ejusdem domus et ordinis, et ad dilationem meriti nostri, et in presidium hospitalitatis suæ facilius exercendæ, ecclesiam S. Felicis, nostræ dioc., cujus ecclesiæ dicti hospitalarii sunt patroni, cum omnibus suis appendiciis et juribus, in pios et proprios usus dictæ domui et ejus fratribus Hospitalariis paternis affectibus deputamus, et eam certis de causis et necessariis appropriamus, obtentu et fiducia Salvatoris; jure archidiaconali, si quod ibi competat, in omnibus semper salvo. Ordinamus insuper quod dicta domus de predicta ecclesia per manus Magistri Johannis de Craucumbe, qui dictam ecclesiam possidet, singulis annis quamdiu idem Johannes duraverit in hac vita, quadraginta solidos sterlingorum nomine rectoriæ curæ et regiminis recipiat in festo B. Tenore presentium etiam approbantes quod archiepiscopus, qui pro tempore fuerit, dictam vicariam cum vacaverit libere conferat cui voluerit, secundum quod in eadem appropriatione plenius continetur. London. Letter of inquisition to the archdeacon. Killington. Pres. of Walter Baret.

7 kal. April., (March 26), 1267. Inquisition as to a moiety of the church of Rillington in full chapter of Bucros' at Norton', before R., official of the archdeacon. Vacans est tam per resignationem P., quondam rectoris ejusdem medietatis, quam per mortem ipsius sequentem, et vacavit a die S. Petri in Cathedra (Feb. 22) per resignationem dicti P., qui prima Dominica Quadragesimæ prox. sequente (March 6) ab hac luce migravit; valetque viij marcas. Abbas autem et conventus de Bellalanda ad ipsam debent presentare, sicut liquet per plura instrumenta in capitulo exhibita et ostensa. Et quia ultimo presentarunt dictum P. ad eandem medietatem, non tamen est sine litigio, quia ibidem comparuit Magister P. de Cliff', appellans pro jure suo, dicens se esse presentatum ad eandem per Henricum, filium Willelmi de Angoteby, quem ipse asseruit esse patronum. Comparuit etiam ibidem Robertus de Engleby, clericus, procurator Willelmi de Stokesle, clerici, appellans pro jure predicti Willelmi. De ipsorum tamen jure ibidem constare non potuit. De natalibus et ordinibus presentati ignorat inquisitio. Dicit tamen quod bene morigeratus et honestæ conversationis existit. In quorum test. domini H., Inquisition.

[1] This presentation and letter of inquisition are repeated in Nos. 642, 646. In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) Henry de Angoteby claimed the advowson of a moiety of the church of Rillington against the abbot of Byland. The plaintiff said his father, William, whose heir he was, presented Adam, his clerk, who was admitted and instituted on his presentation, and died last parson of the church. The abbot admitted this, but stated in defence, that after the presentation mentioned above William gave to Byland half an acre of land in Rillington with the advowson of a moiety of the church, and that a fine was levied between William and the abbot. The plaintiff lost his case (Assize Roll. No. 1050, m. 69). At the same Assize Walter de Grey claimed the same advowson against the abbot of Byland and Henry, son of Richard (sic) de Osgoteby. The plaintiff alleged that Richard, father of Richard de Osgoteby, after presenting Adam, his clerk, enfeoffed him in the manor of Rillington, to which the advowson of the moiety pertained. Decision in the abbot's favour, but the letter to the archbishop caused delay, as the title to the advowson was still in dispute (Ibid., m. 77). The same plaintiff, here called canon of York, brought another action against the same defendants at this assize on the same subject. Here he alleged that Richard de Angoteby presented Henry, his clerk, to a moiety of the church of Rillington, in the time of Henry iii., and that Richard's son and heir, Henry, enfeoffed him in the manor of Rillingthon, to which the advowson was appurtenant. The case was adjourned to Michaelmas Term at Westminster (Ibid., m. 93).

[1] In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) William de Percy claimed the advowson of Catton against John de Eyvile, alleging that Richard de Percy, uncle of William de Percy, his father, presented Richard, his clerk, in the time of Henry iii., and that he was admitted on his presentation. The defendant claimed a moiety of the advowson, as the plaintiff's antecessor, Agnes de Percy, gave 100s. rent in Katton and a moiety of the advowson in frank marriage with her daughter, Maude, to his grandfather, John, whose heir he was; and that John presented Ivo, his clerk, to a moiety, and, after Ivo's death Robert de Eyvile, his father, presented the said Richard to this moiety, Richard de Percy presenting him to the other. The plaintiff in reply stated that Richard de Percy made the presentation alone, and this was the view taken by the jury. (Assize Roll. No. 1050, m. 48d).

per procuratorem nostrum nichil intelleximus nisi bonum, vosque inter ceteros ecclesiæ nostræ fratres magis habuimus speciales, et spem firmam concepimus, quod pro defensione nostra, si foret necesse, vos murum fortem pro viribus poneretis. Set hoc facit aliquantulum nos mirari, quod, cum nichil nobis tetigeritis de injuriis vobis illatis, ut dicitis, dum eratis in Anglia, taliter voluistis proponere coram Papa, ac si ita essemus injuriosi et duri quod subditos nostros vellemus omnino deprimere et eorum jura penitus occupare. Set, ecce, domino Papæ sicut et vobis veraciter respondemus, quod scilicet jurisdictioni vestræ non intendimus derogare, vel ne possitis libere ea uti quomodolibet impedire. Intelligimus enim quod cognitionem habetis causarum, et ipsam exercuistis hactenus inconcusse, nisi quod officiales nostri quandoque, sicut prius fieri consuevit ad majores querelas, ne videretur negari justitia, resscripserunt, cognoscentes de ipsis donec esset partibus convocatis et in presentia nostra quandoque discussum, ad quem propositæ causæ cognitio debuit pertinere. Unde contigit quod de conniventia vestra et officialium nostrorum quandoque fuerunt remissæ, quandoque processum exigente justitia in eisdem, vobis jurgiis et nobis causis majoribus ut convenit reservatis. De penis autem clericorum seu laicorum pro excessibus, nisi in casu necligentiæ, nichil penitus intromittimus, set illæ quæ non venientibus ad synodum statutis temporibus imponuntur ad vos omnino non pertinent, sicut scitis, nec inde quicquam consuevistis percipere; quia nostra est synodus, et ipsam per nos ipsos vel officiales nostros, sicut nobis placuerit, celebramus. Institutiones quidem rectorum quorumlibet non habetis, set eos ad mandatum nostrum, sicut et priores et abbates, in possessionem inducitis corporalem. Visitatis etiam ecclesias et procurationes recipitis sine contradictione qualibet de eisdem. Decanos etiam rurales simul creamus, et eos de communi conniventia ammovemus, et contra hec nichil omnino credimus per nos vel officiales nostros nostris temporibus innovatum. Et, si contra hec, nobis insciis, per officiales nostros injuria fuerit irrogata, per capituli nostri consilium faceremus libentius emendari sine jurgio quolibet et querela, et ad hoc nunc offerimus nos paratos. Si tamen elegeritis viam litigii, oportebit obstacula sicut poterimus preparare, quod forsitan non deceret. Ideoque, si placet, vestram super premissis nobis mandabitis voluntatem, et nos libentius condescendemus eidem, dignitate tamen nostra, honore et nomine semper salvis.

Fo. 44. Bradford. Relaxation of sequestration.

CCCLIX. Idus Julii (July 15), 1267. Norton. Relaxation of the sequestration of the church of Brafford at the instance of the archdeacon of York and of Master N. de Croylaund, the rector.

Ottobonus urges on the prelates and clergy of the Northern Province the blessing and necessity of peace after the recent disturbances and at all times.

CCCLX. [1] July 7, 1268. Ottobonus, etc., venerabilibus in Cristo patribus, Ebor. archiepiscopo, Dunolm. et Carleol. episcopis, ac religiosis et discretis viris, abbatibus, prioribus et eorum conventibus Cisterciensis et aliorum ordinum, tam exemptis quam non exemptis, decanis quoque et archidiaconis, rectoribus, vicariis et ceteris ecclesiarum prelatis, per Eboracensem, Dunolmensem et Carleolensem civitates et dioceses constitutis, salutem in salutis Auctore. Nostri sollicitudo requirit officii, ut quietem regno Angliæ preparantes statum ipsius, varia et verenda discordia lacrimabiliter deformatum, per Ejus auxilium Quem auctorem pacis religio Cristiana fatetur, ad federa pacis omni qua possumus vigilantia reformemus. Nempe propter hoc ab Apostolica Sede huc missi cognoscimur unde ad totaliter incitamur; [et] in hoc prosequimur firmum zelum quo nostra semper intentio viget[2] ad honores et commoda regni hujus. Ad idem nos movet non tam securitas corporum, set et salus potius animarum. Super hoc quoque attendimus et communia omnium et privata compendia singulorum per hoc, et regiæ majestatis, quæ decor est regni ac speculum subjectorum, et tutum Ecclesiæ Anglicanæ provehimus fulcimentum. Quid enim in terris amplius et placentius exprimi poterit bono pacis? Adeo enim dulcissimum est hoc bonum, ut nemo tam efferus sit, vel perditus, seu remissus, qui optinere illud non appetat, et non gaudeat de optento. Nec solum rationabiles creaturæ, set etiam rationis carentes[3] experientia, et quecumque sunt, naturabiliter pacem appetunt ac ipsius amant sinibus confoveri.[4] Unde, secundum quod perhibet Dionisii Magni auctoritas, nichil existendum erit quod ab omni pacis deciderit penitus unitate. Quod enim, inquid, omnino inquietum et illocatum est, nec ens est, nec in existentibus esse potest. Nam, sicut scribit Philosophus, Nec naturæ forent si non qualicumque pace substarent. Pax, inquam, ut ait quidam Sapiens, omni regno desiderabilis esse debet, sub qua et populi recte proficiunt et utilitas gentium procuratur. Hec enim, inquit, bonarum est artium pulcra mater; hec, genus Order from the archb. to his seneschal to pay 300 marks to the proctors of cardinal Ancherus, being his pension for the past and present years.

CCCCLXI. 14 kal. Julii, anno 6, (June 18, 1272). Hadleg'. Suo senescallo salutem. Mandavit nobis dominus Ancherus per suas litteras supplicando, quod pensionem suam cum arreragiis mercatoribus suis solvere curaremus, ne apud Sedem Apostolicam contra nos oporteat eum remedium impetrare, quod foret sibi facile hiis diebus. Unde, quia bonum est facere de necessitate virtutem, vobis mandamus quatinus Baudo Alebrandi et Bartholomeo Marky, mercatoribus Senonensibus, quos dictus cardinalis procuratores suos constituit, trecentas marcas pro pensione anni preteriti et ipsius arreragiis in nundinis S. Botulfi modis omnibus faciatis persolvi. Proviso quod super solutione facta bona securitas nobis fiat. Valeatis.

Letter of credence from cardinal Ancherus for his messenger Robin called Galopin de Landucio.

decimi anno primo, in Urbe in domo nostra S. Praxedis. Universis presentes litteras inspecturis, Ancherus, miseratione divina tituli Sanctæ Praxedis sacrosanctæ Romanæ Ecclesiæ presbiter cardinalis, salutem in Domino sempiternam. Cum nos dilectum cursorem nostrum, Robinum dictum Galopin de Landucio,[1] latorem presentium, pro quibusdam nostris negotiis ad partes Franciæ et Angliæ transmittamus, universitatem vestram requirendam duximus et rogandam, quatinus ipsum, nostri amoris intuitu et ob Apostolicæ Sedis reverentiam, cum per vos transitum fecerit, per terras et potestates vestras ire et redire secure et libere et absque inpedimento aliquo permittatis, ita quoda a Domino mereamini gloriam, et a nobis possitis merito commendari. Scituri pro firmo quod quicquid ipsi curialitatis et gratiæ factum fuerit, non sibi set nobis reputabimus esse factum.

The archb. to the cardinal of S. Prassede. Cannot pay the money he owes at Rome on account of his poverty.

CCCCLXIII.[2] 1272, 2 kal. Aug. (July 31). London. Reverendo in Cristo patri et domino, Dei gratia tit. S. Praxedis diacono cardinali, W., permissione ejusdem Ebor. ecclesiæ minister humilis, se ipsum intimo et cordiali affectu cum omni reverentia, prosperitate et honore. Pater reverentissime,—Multa hiis diebus et a multis retrotemporibus nos infortunia et angustiæ variæ concusserunt; verumtamen erubescimus et tristissimo[3] tedio desolamur, quod impotentiam aliquam quavis ex causa tanto patri et benivolo pretendere compellimur, aut flebili inopia pauperrime denudare. Scitis siquidem, pater karissime, quot guerrarum dispendia inclitum regnum Angliæ, quod quondam habundabat in singulis, ad omnium defectuum miserias, immo quasi in nichilum, redegerunt.[4] Audistis insuper, sicut credimus, quot onera debitorum in ecclesia nostra Ebor., quæ nequaquam vel vix enarrare sufficimus, nos opprimunt et elidunt, de quibus felicis recordationis dominus et promotor noster, Clemens papa,[5] nobis gratiose concessit, ut mille marcas de modica fortuna nostra in partem solutionis eorumdem annis singulis solveremus. Quæ quidem annalis solutio nos ad plurima quæ vellemus efficit penitus impotentem. Inmoderata etiam bonorum nostrorum, si quæ suppetant, circa regimen regni Anglicani jugis insuper et inevitabilis effusio nos mirabiliter depauperat et angustat. Karistia etiam divites et pauperes in partibus nostris egra et pregrandi egestate perculit et contrivit, nec a subditis vel aliis propter hoc nimirum reperimus relevamen. Ecce, igitur, quæ solutionem nostram, quod nos tedet, novit Omnipotens, in nostram erubescentiam et dedecus quod timemus, adeo distulerunt; set si onus istius solutionis in capitulum nostrum Ebor. fuisset unanimiter translatum, prout bono zelo et optima fide ad securitatem et comoditatem vestri alias sperabamus, Deo et utrique nostrum modo forsitan complaceret. Et, nisi spes hujusmodi hactenus subfuisset, aliud saltem in parte et pro posse dominationi vestræ fecissemus, quicquid nobis incomodi contigisset. Verum, ne ipsa solutio saltem in toto ulterius tardaretur, in nundinis S. Botulfi ducentas marcas ad opus vestrum fecimus numerari, quæ nobis non sine tedio, set (laudetur Altissimus) gratius obvenerunt. Speramus etiam, domine, confidentissime, sub curiali et pia compassione vestra in residuo, prout Deus benignitati vestræ inspiraverit, velut vester devotissimus, respirare; et eo, si placet, facilius quo, consideratis omnibus sumptibus quos in reparatione domorum archiepiscopatus et sustentatione jurium ipsius fecimus, et cotidianis vicibus impendimus, paucam et exilem summam nostris usibus applicamus. Utinam, domine reverende, vota et precepta vestra possemus adeo tamquam propriis effectibus adimplere, sicut id hilari corde firmiter affectamus. Conservet vos et ecclesiæ et populo Suo Deus per tempora diuturna.

DLXXVII. Boulton'. Anno ab Incarnatione Domini M°CC°LX° septimo, iiij non. Dec. (Dec. 2), littera Dominicali currente per B, visitatione facta in prioratu de Boulton per ven. patrem, W., Dei gratia Ebor. archiepiscopum, tam in capite quam in membris, compertum est quod Hugo de Ebor. dicitur proprietarius in pecunia, et eo magis suspectus est in premissis quod dicitur habere pecuniam in deposito, aut penes fratrem suum apud Ebor., aut penes sororem suam monialem de Sancto Clemente. Diffamatus etiam fuit idem Hugo aliquo tempore de incontinentia; factum tamen incontinentiæ non probatur. Fo. 62. Visitation of Bolton Priory.

Compertum est etiam quod contra predecessorem Willelmi de Danfeld', qui tempore presentis visitationis prior extitit, totus conventus sacramento prestito conspiravit; a quo juramento conspiratores petunt absolvi. Item compertum est quod Johannes de Pontefracto, celerarius, non est multum utilis in officio, et quod plures sunt in conventu magis ad illud idonei. Item compertum est quod silentium in ecclesia, claustro, dormitorio, refectorio, non bene servatur. Item quod infirmi fratres non bene procurantur, nec secundum exigentiam ordinis humanitus visitantur. Item quod Johannes de Ottele, licet professus novicius, tamen in ordine non reddit servitium suum cordetenus juxta morem disciplinæ regularis. Item quod celerarius et subcelerarius, quando vacare possunt, non intersunt divinis officiis nec collationibus quæ fiunt in conventu, et quod frequenter post refectionem conventus seorsum se reficiunt in refectorio lautius quam ceteri fuerant refecti. Item quod prior ponit custodes in quibusdam maneriis irrequisito consensu conventus, qui compotum non reddunt, ut creditur. Item compotus de communibus rebus et administrationibus per obedientiarios non redditur in communi. Item compertum est per confessionem prioris et quandam scripturam, quam, sigillo suo signatam, in visitatione tradidit domino archiepiscopo, quod ipse excommunicavit, monitione non premissa nec in scriptis, fratres Willelmum Hog et Hugonem de Ebor., propter quod suspensus a canone usque ad mensem infra dictum mensem celebravit. Item compertum est quod monasterium de Boulton' obligatum est variis creditoribus in trecentis et viginti quatuor libris et quinque solidis et septem denariis; non est tamen predictum debitum usurarium, eo quod non debetur mercatoribus set convicinis, et fuerat contractum per predecessores hujus prioris. Item compertum est quod Nicholaus de Broc, subprior, senio confractus et debilis, non sufficit ad regimen spiritualitatis interius, propter quod, super hoc interpellatus a domino archiepiscopo, spontaneus ab illa sollicitudine absolutus est; et preceptum est priori et conventui quod alium elegant idoneum, qui sciat et possit et velit dictam sollicitudinem laudabiliter adimplere. Set, quia in electione non fuerat conventus uniformis, dominus archiepiscopus traxit eos ad concordiam, et elegerunt fratrem Radulfum de Eston in suum suppriorem; qui ab archiepiscopo canonice est admissus. Tandem, cum tractaretur de statu dicti prioris, qui occasione scripturæ quam porrexerat domino archiepiscopo, ut supradictum est, videbatur irregularitatem contraxisse, idem prior fatebatur quibusdam de conventu hoc idem testificantibus, quod dictos fratres, Willelmum le Hog et Hugonem de Ebor., non excommunicaverat, et quod continebatur in scriptura de excommunicatione verum non fuerat, dominus archiepiscopus penam priori infligendam propter scripturam mendacem, quam sibi tradiderat, sibi reservavit, usque ad suæ voluntatis beneplacitum exequendam. Cetera vero corrigenda, prout in superioribus continetur, decrevit per priorem facienda[1]; hoc salvo, quod si dicti fratres, Willelmus le Hog et Hugo de Ebor., mores suos quo ad turbationem tranquillitatis conventus citra Pascha non correxerint, ex tunc uterque vel eorum alter, prout dominus archiepiscopus duxerit decernendum, mittatur in aliam domum religiosam, et ibi moretur quousque dictus dominus duxerit eum ad prioratum de Boulton' revocare. Reservavit etiam idem dominus sibi potestatem ordinandi de ere alieno quo dictum monasterium tempore visitationis fuerat obligatum, nisi ultra Nathale super premissis salubriter ordinaverint.

M°CC°LX° septimo, idus Jan. (Jan. 13, 1267-8), littera Dominicali currente per A, visitatione facta in prioratu de Swyne per ven. patrem, W., Dei gratia Ebor. archiepiscopum, tam in capite quam in membris, compertum est quod Amicia de Rue detractrix est et mendax et inpatiens, et odibilis conventui et rebellis, et omnes fere de conventu quando excessus delinquentium in capitulo proclamantur; propter quod priorissa, seu vices ejus gerens, sine adjutorio domini archiepiscopi non sufficit ad correctiones faciendas secundum exigentiam observantiæ regularis. Item compertum est quod silentium in ecclesia, claustro, refectorio et dormitorio non servatur. Item compertum est quod tres sorores carnales et spirituales, scilicet, Sibilla et Bella et Amia, frequenter rebellant correctionibus priorissæ, et quibusdam sororibus secum colligatis contra sorores suas conspirant, in magnam perniciem regularis disciplinæ; quibus adherent Alicia de Scrutevile, Beatrix de Sancto Quintino et Matill' Constabular'. Item compertum est quod infirmæ moniales in infirmaria male procurantur, quia nichil ipsis subministratur, vel parum plus quam sanis comedentibus in refectorio, licet dominus Seerus de Suttun' quondam dederit dimidiam bovatam terræ ad procurandum infirmas moniales et sorores, de qua nichil percipiunt ad infirmariam. Item compertum est quod Alicia Brun' et Alicia de Adeburn' symoniace velatæ fuerunt, quod ut tunc fieri potuit canonice correctum fuit. Item compertum est quod pecunias[1] quæ conventui caritative conferuntur ad pitancias et camisias et ceteros usus necessarios percipit priorissa, quæ potius essent custodiendæ per duas honestas moniales et indigentibus distribuendæ, in alios usus nullatenus convertendæ. Item compertum est quod moniales minus sufficienter procurantur in calciamentis, quia non habent nisi unum par in anno; similiter et in vestibus, eo quod vix habent unicam tunicam in triennio et unicum pallium in viginti annis, nisi per parentes et amicos seculares plura possint sibi mendicare. Item compertum est quod priorissa suspiciosa mulier est et nimis credula, et ex facili dicto prorumpit in correctionem, et frequenter pro equali delicto aliquas inequaliter punit, et longo odio persequitur odiosas, quousque tempus emerserit vindicandi; inde est quod moniales, quando suspicantur quod nimia correctione gravabuntur, procurant comminationibus propinquorum severitatem ejus mitigari. Item compertum est quod moniales et sorores in pluribus sunt discordes, eo quod sorores contendunt se monialibus esse pares, et velis nigris utuntur ut moniales, quod in aliis ejusdem religionis domibus esse dicitur insuetum. Item compertum est quod duæ fenestræ per quas devehuntur esculenta et poculenta canonicorum et conversorum, per duas moniales quæ dicuntur janitrices earumdem minus bene custodiuntur, eo quod frequenter fiunt ibi suspectæ confabulationes inter canonicos et conversos ex una parte et moniales et sorores ex altera. Item compertum est quod porta quæ ducit ad ecclesiam minus caute custoditur per quemdam puerum secularem, qui permittit passim in crepusculo canonicos et conversos ingredi, ut confabulentur cum monialibus et sororibus, quæ porta consuevit per conversum fidelem et strenuum diligenter custodiri. Item compertum est quod familia domini Roberti de Hiltun' militis nimis dissolute vagatur per claustrum et parlerium, et valde suspecte cum monialibus et sororibus frequenter confabulantur, unde timetur periculum. Qui quidem Robertus valde molestus est eis et infestus; unde, propter timorem oppressionis suæ, canonici domus nuper, sine consensu conventus, dederunt ei horreum plenum blado, de quo conventus debuit sustentari. Item compertum est quod canonici et conversi bona exterius sub colore custodiæ dissipant et consumunt, quorum quædam custodiæ monialium committi consuevit, adeo quod licet bona domus, si discrete regantur, sufficiant ad omnium sustentationem, moniales tamen non habent nisi panem et caseum et cervisiam; binis, tamen, diebus in ebdomada aqua pro cervisia eisdem subministratur.

Fo. 63. Canonici vero et sui complices satis habundanter et laute procurantur. Item compertum est quod domus de Swyne non potest plures moniales seu sorores quam modo sunt ibi sustinere, eo quod presentes male procurantur in mensa, ut supradictum est, et nichilominus remanet domus obligata in centum et quadraginta marcis ad minus; propter quod decrevit dominus archiepiscopus quod nulla decetero recipiatur ibidem monialis seu soror nisi de consensu ipsius. Correctionem vero premissorum, tam spiritualium quam temporalium, quæ per canonicos et conventum infra breve tempus correcta non fuerint, sibi, quam cito vacare poterit, de consensu canonicorum et conventus, specialiter reservavit.

Item quantum periculum animæ merito debet timeri cuicumque tantum detrimentum ecclesiæ procuranti; cum ex inde curas negligi, ecclesias, ornamenta et domos destrui, et jura deperire contingat, pro eo quod mercenariis, lac tantum et lanam querentibus et temporalia medullitus emungentibus, et non pastoribus [curam] animarum sicut deceret querentibus, committuntur. Item quantum meritum, quantam laudem et gloriam apud Deum et homines adquirere sibi poterit, ac ecclesiam sibi astringere obligatione perhenni ad debitum speciale, si eam relevet filiorum suorum presentia, magis quam aliqua alia regni Angliæ sic orbatam; set et noserimus ei obnoxii et ad ejus imperia preparati pro viribus in futurum, necnon et in pecunia numerata vel alias, sicut providerit et nobis erit possibile, germano suo satisfacere curabimus hillariter et libenter, ut ecclesiæ nostræ de sua benignitate possit prospici nostris temporibus in hac parte.

[1] The archbishop seems to have been misinformed. No one of the name of Percival occurs amongst the archbishops of Ravenna in the latter half of the thirteenth century. There was no vacancy in the see between the years 1270 and 1274 (Gams' Series Episcoporum, 718). In 7 Edw. i. The archb. to the archdeacons of Worcester, Gloucester, & Stafford, informing them that he did not intend to assist in the execution of the will of the bishop of Worcester.

DCLIV. [No date]. W., miseratione, etc., discretis viris et amicis suis in Cristo karissimis, dominis R. de Esthalle, H. et Th. de Cantilupo, Wygorniensi Glowecestrensi et Staffordiensi archidiaconis, salutem, etc. Quod elogium sanctæ recordationis W., quondam Wygorniensis episcopi,[1] secundum testationem ejusdem felicibus successibus prosperetur optamus avide, et posse nostrum totis intendimus nisibus adhibere, ut, cum administratores ipsius ad nos accesserint affectu, prono ac consilio provido in agendis suis strenue quantum poterimus assistamus. Ad hæc enim nos teneri credimus, pro ea quam nobis dum viveret familiaritate impenderat, ut sibi, jam cum Cristo superstiti, suisque omnibus, oportunis favoribus ac presidiis efficacibus foveamus. Sane, quemadmodum vestrarum dilectionum sinceritas plene novit, intellectus noster istis presertim temporibus tot curis rapitur, tot anxie tediis implicatur, quod res familiares negligimus, non absque gravi jacturæ dispendio ex insufficientia imperfecti; propter quæ formidamus, nec mirum, incognitum agredi, ne forte nichil omnino peragatur ut convenit si ad plurima festinemus. Nec in hoc negotio procuratorem ordinare volumus, ut tanquam executor aliqualiter habeamur, cum nostræ intentionis non existat, nec unquam fuerit, ut hujusmodi Vos quoque tanti et tales estis quod sufficietis plenissime, Deo propitio, ad consummationem eorum omnium quæ incumbent. Nos autem, ut prediximus, vobis assistemus jugiter ope, consilio et favore. Et, quia presentia domini Nicholai de Wodeford ad tractandum una vobiscum de negotiis executionis ipsius, ut scripsistis, plurimum indigetis, ipsum quam citius de partibus Eboraci ad nos accesserit, vobis curabimus destinare. The archb. to the prior of Felley on behalf of Ralph Barry, an apostate brother.

DCLXVI. [No date]. Pro apostata penitenti.[1] W., etc., dilectis in Cristo, filiis priori et conventui de Fellee, salutem, etc. Miserabilis et deploranda conquestio[2], ex parte R. Barri, confratris vestri, delata nobis, nostra commovit viscera, et ad hoc efficaciter nos induxit, ut, de ipsius salute soliciti, perditionem ejus vobis de cetero imputemus, nisi salutem ipsius fraterna caritate cum exactissima diligentia procuretis. Verum est nec infitiari potest, quod in ecclesia vestra religionis habitum sumens vinculum professionis emisit, set tandem a stabilitate quam promiserat dampna[bi]li resiliens levitate, de celo ad terram, de claustri honestate, antiquo hoste instigante, revolavit ad seculum, peccatis multiplicibus involutus. Ceterum misericordiam quam regularis observantiæ institutor ad ternarium choartavit, evangelicæ mansuetudo gratiæ septuagesies septies ampliavit, adeo ut errantem ovem ut redeat non expectat, quin potius ex habundanti misericordia, ut in dulcedinis suæ benedictionibus preveniat, eam jubet querere ac salutaribus monitis ab errore et invio ad vitæ semitam revocare. Sane ad laboris compendium vobis cedit, quod regredi nititur, quod ad januam pulsat, quod devote et humiliter misericordiam postulat, quod suum confitetur reatum, quod omni satisfactioni secundum regularem observantiam votivus se submittit, et judicium disciplinalis obedientiæ a misericordia non excludit; ideoque vobis mandamus quatinus, si de commissis, ut dictum est, devota parientia satisfacturum se offerat secundum observantiam regularem, ipsum admittatis comiter conciti et tractare fraterna caritate studeatis; nec precludatur ei sinus misericordiæ ne desperet, cum majus gaudium sit angelis super uno peccatore penitentiam agente, quam qui non indigent[3] penitentia super nonaginta novem justis; attendentes quod misericordiam et non sacrificium affectat clementia Salvatoris, nec peccatoris mortem desiderat, set potius ut convertatur et vivat. Memores igitur misericordiæ quam pro filio revertenti prodigo pater ewangelicus legitur impendisse, regressum confratris vestri, salva ordinis disciplina, gratanter admittatis in visceribus caritatis.

et canonicis, salvis hiis quæ in eorum regula continentur, subscripta statuta indiximus observanda; ea quæ in aliis nostris visitationibus ipsis injunximus renovantes, superaddentes quædam nova quæ animarum suarum saluti et ejusdem domus proficuo[1] vidimus expedire. In primis quod prior qui pro tempore fuerit majora negotia domus cum consilio nostro, si in partibus illis presentes fuerimus, vel illius quem ad hoc deputaverimus, si absentes fuerimus, et consilio majoris et sanioris partis sui conventus, faciat. Quod in refectorio cum fratribus comedat et in dormitorio jaceat, nisi infirmitate vel alia justa causa fuerit prepeditus. Quod si ex aliqua causa necessaria contigerit eum extra refectorium comedere, vel extra dormitorium jacere, unum canonicum honestum secum habeat, et ultra horam canonicam cum hospitibus moram non faciat. Quod assiduus sit ad capitulum, collationem et di[s]ciplinam, nisi causa rationabilis impedierit. Quod excessus fratrum in capitulo cum consilio seniorum sui conventus caritative corrigat, omni hodio et rancore postpositis. Quod affabilem se exhibeat fratribus cum super aliquo conveniatur, et ipsos non afficiat conviciis vel opprobriis coram secularibus, nec etiam aliquem gravi pena ligare presumat, nisi de assensu conventus. Quod nullus admittatur canonicus vel conversus nisi assensu nostro prius requisito et optento; et tunc obedientiam faciat priori, professionem autem nobis. Quod celerarius curam agat de exterioribus sub priore, tam in grangiis quam redditibus et proventibus animalium et aliarum rerum ad domum pertinentium, audiatque compotum a fratribus et servientibus exterioribus, respondeatque bursariis communiter electis. Qui etiam bursarii cum omnibus aliis obedientiariis temporibus statutis, ad minus bis in anno, de omnibus receptis et expensis coram priore et saniori parte capituli fideliliter computabunt. Quod subcel[er]arius in dormitorio jaceat, negociisque domus per actis claves celarii ibidem secum deferat. Quod sigillum conventus custodiatur a tribus vel iiij^{or} communiter electis, et quod nullæ litteræ sigillentur de eodem, nisi presente priore, et majori et saniori parte conventus. Quod nulla fiat alienatio vel permutatio, nec etiam instrumentum aliquod conficiatur, super alienatione[2] vel permutatione facienda, nisi de speciali auctoritate et licencia nostras; quod, si secus actum fuerit, irritum habeatur et inane. Quod beneficia sacristariæ vel aliis officinis domus legata vel concessa non subtrahantur, nec in alios usus convertantur.

Quod canonici tam intra quam extra presint conversis, et conversi nullam habeant super canonicos dominationem. Vestes autem laneas habeant conversi ejusdem coloris, cujus et canonici, exceptis capis, easque de revestiario recipiant. In loco autem competenter assignato eis reficiantur, et ad matutinas cum canonicis surgant, et, prout regula exigit, ibidem commorentur. Fratres autem conversi in grangiis commorantes carnibus non utantur, nisi coram priore vel in presentia alicujus canonici. Particulares vel privatas commessationes in cameris nulli faciant, quia sicut unus est locus quiestionis et dormitionis, ita unus debet esse locus refectionis. Quod canonici ad fena levanda vel alia opera rusticana exercenda non exeant. Quod nullus proprietatem habeat, nec etiam depositum, nisi de licentia prioris. Quod claustruma transitu secularium diligenter custodiatur, et quod hostia ecclesiæ et claustri per custodes ordinis prudenter et sollicite custodiantur, ne quis horis incompetentibus intra vel extra possit evagari, unde scandalum possit oriri. Quod infirmi honeste tractentur, et de bonis domus secundum ejus facultates, prout necessitas exegerit, sustententur. Inhibemus eciam, districte et firmiter injungendo, ne corrodia vendant, vel stipendia assignent aliqua, clericis vel laicis, aut etiam gratis concedant imperpetuum, vel ad tempus sine nostro assensu. Quod mulieres in grangiis ubi fratres commorantur de noctibus non morentur; et si necessitas exegerit, tales ibi famulentur de quibus non possit oriri sinistra suspicio. De decanatu sic ordinamus, quod cura et custodia ipsius decanatus per nos parrochiali capellano dictorum canonicorum, vel alii, secundum arbitrium nostrum committantur; et, si alii quam capellano eorum cura ipsa commissa fuerit, corrodium unius canonici de eadem domo integre percipiat. Ad hæc, pro reprimendis potationibus superfluis et commesationibus inhonestis, precipimus ut nec prior nec canonici in suis grangiis de cetero faciant braciare, set ad eas, cum pro domus utilitate accesserint, de prioratu necessaria secum ferant; in eisdem quas habent in valle Gloverniæ ultra unam noctem simul nullatenus moraturi; nec etiam apud Cumpton vel Eston moram faciant longiorem, nisi urgens domus necessitas et evidens utilitas id exposcat. Prior vero alicubi profecturus pro negotiis domus suæ unum maturum canonicum secum habeat, et unicum armigerum, caute cavens ne domus sua inutili familia, vel suorum vel concanonicorum parentum accessibus oneretur, vel aliquibus debitis de cetero a[g]gravetur. in capitulo precipimus recitari, statuentes ut neglector eorumdem, si prior sit vel obedientiarius, et convictus quod ea non servaverit, ab officio suo cadat; si vero simplex canonicus eorumdem sit transgressor, secundum arbitrium nostrum vel ejus qui eis consiliarius a nobis fuerit deputatus, gravi subjaceat ultioni. In hujus ordinationis perpetuo duraturæ majorem stabilitatem nos presenti scripto apposuimus signum nostrum.

Vos etiam, cumulando injurias injuriis, ad docendum coram vobis de jure meo, scilicet ad procedendum, testes meos, dilationem nimis brevem michi prefixistis; propter[1] quod in forma predicta iterato appello, et Apostolos peto instanter, et appellationem a vobis alias interpositam innovo.[2] Item, cum vos ecclesiam de Stayngreve, cujus possessioni incumbo et dudum incubui, dicto magistro G. contulistis, lite inter dictum magistrum G. et me nullatenus contestata, nec processu habito super dicta ecclesia, michi diem ad docendum de jure meo et ad procedendum testes contra justitiam prefixistis; sentiens me indebite gravatum, dominum legatum, et in ipsius defectu Sedem Apostolicam, in scriptis appello, et Apostolos instanter peto; non artando me ad probationem omnium et singularum appellationum, set quatenus videro expedire, et sufficere debeat ad victoriam. Actum apud Kawode die Mercurii prox. post festum S. Leonardi (Nov. 9), anno supradicto.

Et, licet super premissis pro animarum salute et ad correctionem dicti Johannis, qui sine nostra auctoritate ordinaria dictam ecclesiam detinet occupatam, ex nostro officio processus coram nobis haberetur in parte, quem per appellationes predictas non vidimus infirmandum, set, eis potius non obstantibus, ad correctionem necessariam procedendum; ob vestræ tamen deliberationis reverentiam nostrum in hac parte processum vobis mittendum decrevimus, et predictis appellationibus vestro, si placet, discutiendis judicio, ad petitionem et instantiam dicti magistri G. detulimus reverenter; et eidem G., quem presens negotium contingere videbatur, ac etiam predicto Johanni, de ipsorum consensu, prefiximus terminum peremptorium in crastino S. Andreæ Apostoli (Dec. 1), quo per se vel per procuratores ydoneos, cum omnibus actis, rationibus, juribus et munumentis suis negotium hujusmodi contingentibus, compareant coram vobis ubicumque fueritis in provincia vobis decreta, processuri, facturi et recepturi tam super appellationibus quam super ecclesia memoratis quod justitia suadebit. Cum igitur felicis recordationis Otto,[1] S. Quia comodum et honorem domini Percevalli, cujus agitis negotia in partibus Angliæ, desideramus specialiter, ut tenemur, sic nobis et ipsi vellemus prospicere, si possemus, quod inter nos ineundo contractus neutri foret dampnosus, nec suscitabitur materia conquerendi; ideoque prolocutione habita inter ipsum dominum et dilectum nobis Ricardum de Button, marescallum nostrum, super firma capellæ Ebor. et prebenda quam [2] optinet, coram nobis dilucide recitata, timentes tantum onus pecuniæ, terminos ita breves, destructionem domorum, et terras minus utiliter ordinatas, earumque valorem quasi penitus ignorantes, sine dicti domini tedio vel jactura providimus potius consulendum quam cum precipitatione minus decenti precisum dare responsum. Cum igitur in partes illas miserimus pro ipso negotio, et nos ipsi illac in proximo diverti speremus, dilectionem vestram rogamus attentius quatinus dilationem responsi pretacti non habeatis molestam, set nobis in hac parte parcatis; presertim cum non intendamus multum differre negotium, set, inquisito de rerum valore, vobis quamtociens respondere; idque comodius facere valeatis, quia nichil aliud recipitis in capella, et procuratorem habetis in prebenda qui bene procuret negotia, ut speramus.

Adam de Rypun et Heliam de Hukenale, paternitati vestræ mitto patentes.

Archb. Godfrey Ludham approved certain statutes made by archb. Walter Gray.

Nos G., miseratione divina Ebor. archiepiscopus, Angliæ primas, in visitatione quam fecimus in monasterio de Novo loco, iiij non. Julii (July 4), A.D. M°CC°LIX, comperimus, quod bonæ memoriæ W., predecessor noster, ad regularem observantiam efficacius conservandam, quædam statuta edidit et sigillo suo tradidit consignata. Unde statuta eadem approbantes, ea sub pena canonica districte precipimus observari; penam infligendam, pro eo quod tam a priore quam conventu contemptibiliter neglecta fuerant, nostro arbitrio reservantes.

And added some new ones. Prior to try to obtain the favour of rich men.

Adicimus autem, statutis eisdem quod prior, malitiam temporis considerans et attendens, sollicite studeat optinere gratiam et favorem patronorum domus, et aliorum qui sibi et suo monasterio prodesse poterunt et obesse.

Guests to be received pleasantly, if possible, by the prior.

Hospites autem, qui honestæ personæ fuerint, cum ad domum ipsam declinaverint recipiat, et recipi faciat vultu, prout decet, hilari et jocundo; et personaliter eos visitet, nisi impotentia vel alia causa probabili fuerit prepeditus, et tunc ad eorum exhilarationem et receptionem aliquem canonicum suo nomine deputet, qui ipsos secundum gravitatem personarum et merita exhilaret et honoret.

The prior to merit the love of the convent and do nothing without his council.

Item statuimus quod prior a suo conventu, prout regula sua docet, amari studeat potius quam timeri, et caritatem inter fratres nutriat et conservet. De arduis autem et majoribus negotiis domus absque consilio seniorum de conventu ordinare aut disponere non presumat.

Medicines to be reserved for the convent.

Item ne, occasione medicinæ quam subprior aliquibus infirmis prebere dicitur, domus ipso frequenti accessu egrotorum inutiliter oneretur, et[1] cura quæ subpriori ex officio imminet dampnabiliter negligatur; nolumus quod de medicina aut curatione circa seculares personas se ulterius intromittat, nisi forte ab aliquo patronorum domus, vel eis propinquo, aut aliqua honesta miserabili persona caritative fuerit requisitus; nec tunc hoc faciat nisi de licentia prioris, si presens fuerit, aut de consilio seniorum domus, si priorem contigerit tunc abesse.

Any brother seeing a rule infringed is to speak.

Item, ut melius custodiatur inter fratres observantia regularis, sub obtestatione divini judicii precipimus, ut unusquisque alium super transgressione regulæ et statutorum sollicite studeat proclamare, nec hoc omittat timore amittendi favorem vel incurrendi odium alicujus, ne errorem fratris cui resistere debuit videatur ex silentio approbare.

Item inordinatas potationes penitus inhibemus. Statuimus quod si quis, post completorium vel aliis horis interdictis, extra formam quæ in regula traditur, bibere convincatur, pro tanto reatu in crastino in pane et aqua penitentiam agere compellatur. Si quis vero inordinate in curia vel extra portam per campos vel nemora evagetur, pro tanto temeritatis excessu, preter aliam penitentiam quæ arbitrio ordini(s)precedentis injungenda fuerit, di[s]ciplinam recipiat in conventu. Graviori autem animadversione plectendos esse censemus, qui ad hujusmodi potationes interdictas et inordinatos discursus fuerint assecuti.

Excessive drinkings forbidden, especially after compline.

Wanderings in the court-yard or in the country outside cloister forbidden.

Item, quia non est equa conditio infirmantium et sanorum, precipimus quod ad infirmorum ministerium aliquis canonicus compatiens deputetur, qui eis horas canonicas dicat, et cum opus fuerit divina celebret, et in cibariis et potibus secundum qualitates morborum et conditiones personarum pro facultatibus domus necessaria faciat ministrari.

A canon to be specially deputed to look after the sick.

De reddendis autem compotis nichil ad presens aliud statuimus quam quod in prefati predecessoris nostri statutis prospeximus contineri.

No order as to accounts

Ut autem hec statuta ab omnibus memoriter habeantur, ea, una cum statutis predecessoris nostri, ad minus bis in anno coram conventu precipimus publice recitari.

These statutes to be read twice a year.

Nos, W. de S. Oswaldo et R. de Gyseburne priores, et ordinis S. Ac insuper alicui canonicorum ejusdem monasterii a suo priore injungatur, ut secundum regulam B. No one to drink but in the frater after collation, and then go to compline.

Ad hec etiam providimus ut nulli canonicorum vel conversorum alibi quam in refectorio bibere liceat, nisi in aula vel ad aulam spectante camera, vel in (in)firmaria, et hoc ex speciali licentia ab ordinis custode petita et optenta.

Certain canons to be chosen to receive money and pay it out to the officials, accounts being rendered twice a year.

Ad hec etiam providimus quod quidam prudentes, discreti et fideles de consilio conventus canonici provideantur, qui omnes denarios ad predictum monasterium qualitercumque spectantes recipiant, et celerario et aliis obedientiariis, secundum quod necessitas postulaverit, per tallias distribuant; et bis, vel ad minus semel, in anno compotum de receptis et expensis tam ipsi receptores,[2]

[2] This rule about paying the money of the house to certain canons thereof, who were to render accounts as to its disposal, does not seem to have been very efficacious in keeping the affairs of the monastery in good order. Ad hec etiam providimus quod universi omnes singulis diebus Dominicis coram conventu in capitulo, in area ejusdem residentes, conveniant, ut si quis eorum puplice coram aliquo canonicorum, hoc vidente vel audiente, deliquerit, coram conventu plenarie satisfaciat. Canons to make amends in chapter on Sunday for transgressions.

Providimus insuper, ut conversus qui curam tenarie habuerit, sub aliquo canonico fideli et prudente hoc habeat, qui, totius emptionis et venditionis ad predictum officium spectantis conscius, per tallias et rotulos super hoc confectos, fideli ipsius conversi diligentiæ testimonium perhibendo, ad reddendum compotum, ad minus semel in anno, coram priore et senioribus super hujusmodi officii proventibus paratus existat. A conversus to look after the tannery and a canon to superintend and see to the buying and selling.

Hoc idem etiam providimus, ut conversus qui curam gardini et orti [habuerit] sub subcelerario similiter hoc exerceat, et compotum de fructuum exitibus plenarie cum eodem coram priore et senioribus, quolibet anno semel ad minus, exsolvat. And also to look after the gardener.

Hec omnia prefati monasterii priori et conventui in virtute obedientiæ qua Sedi Apostolicæ et Capitulo Generali predictæ provinciæ tenentur, inviolabiliter et integre servanda injunximus; priori autem memorato firmiter precipiendo mandantes ut secum ad Capitulum Generale dominum Ricardum de Walkringham, vel aliquem discretum ex senioribus, ducere non omittat, per quem de mandato conventus speciali nobis plenius constare possit, si premissa omnia secundum provisionem nostram servata fuerint. Ut autem hec omnia robur et firmitatem optineant, et, ad predicti monasterii relevationem, ad totius ejusdem conventus notitiam facilius perveniant, prelibata universa inscripto redacta, et quater in anno coram conventu publice recitanda sigillorum nostrorum appositionibus munita, prefatis canonicis reli[n]quimus. [1] The only place in the East Riding with a similar name is Houghton, in the parish of Sancton, called in Domesday Houeton, but it does not seem that ever was a chapel there. Perhaps Hutton Cranswick. This document gives a very good example of the meaning of the word "chantry." It was a service and not place, although it frequently happened that some addition was made to the church in which the chantry might be celebrated, and hence the modern use of the word as applied to a place instead of a service. The derivation of the word from the French Chanter shows it must have been primarily applied to a service.

The archb. to the king, excusing his refusal to admit Will. de Birlay, his nominee, to the church of Warsop, as Sir Rob. de Sutton, the true patron, had presented the dean of Lincoln, and the inquisition had found in his favour.

DCCXXIII.[1] Salutem. Cum explorati juris sit et rationi nichilominus consonum, quod etsi princeps quandoque precise scribat et rationabiliter, tamen exceptio seu justa excusatio admitti debeat, magnificentissimam magestatem vestram turbari non credimus, si quod aliquando scribitis excusatione legitima recenti expedire nequimus. Sane precepit nobis nuper excellentia vestra quod, quia presentationem vestram ad ecclesiam de Warsop', nostræ dioc., contra dominum Robertum de Sutton per considerationem curiæ vestræ recuperastis, Willelmum de Birlay, clericum vestrum, nobis per vos presentatum, ad eandem ecclesiam admitteremus. At ex parte magistri Willelmi de Lessington, decani Lincoln., coram nobis est excipiendo propositum quod, etsi legitima fuisset vestra recuperatio, ad executionem tamen mandati vestri in ipsius prejudicium et magis ecclesiasticæ libertatis enervationem procedere secundum canonicas sanctiones non possumus nec debemus, cum idem magister Willelmus per dictum dominum Robertum, filium et heredem patris sui, qui ex legitima successione paterna jus patronatus Insuper Sedem Apostolicam sollempniter in scriptis appellans, ne nos vel alius auctoritate nostra vel alterius dictum Willelmum de Birlay ad eandem ecclesiam de Warsop in prejudicium juris et possessionis suæ admittamus, vel admitti faciamus; protestans demum quod, si dictus Willelmus vel alius contra ipsum magistrum W. super eadem ecclesia coram nobis voluerit in forma juris experiri, servato ordine semper paratus erit se defendere. Cum igitur non minus per sacrorum canonum instituta quam per secularium principum decreta ecclesiam Dei gubernari sollicitius oporteat, nos attendentes expresse cautum in jure canonico quod presentatus ab eo qui jus patronatus ecclesiæ possidebat removeri non debeat admissus, licet jure postmodum evictum fuerit jus patronatus; et arbitrantes quod si de hujusmodi admissione ipsius magistri Willelmi et possessione sua, de quibus mandatum vestrum nullam facit mentionem, vobis similiter constitisset, littera vestra nequaquam sub hac forma processisset, ab executione mandati vestri ad presens subsistere, artati canonica justitia, credimus oportunum, presertim cum predictus vester presentatus die sibi assignato non fuerit legitime prosecutus.

Order from the archb. to the prior and brethren of the Friars Preachers of Beverley, to whom he had given licence to hear the confessions of their parishioners, not to hear those of the parishioners of St. Martin's and St. Mary's, Beverley.

DCCXXVI. W., etc., priori et fratribus de Ordine Predicatorum Beverlaci, salutem. Scientes vos fortes ecclesiæ Dei columpnas veritatisque fidei esse sine fictione precones, ad relevationem nostræ sarcinæ, subditorum nostrorum salutem, et meriti contemplationis augmentum, litteras nostras vestro et Minorum Ordinibus dudum meminimus concessisse, ut passim in vestra parochia confessiones possetis audire et penitentias injungere salutares; jure tamen nostro et nostri penitentiarii semper salvo. Verum, ex relatu fidedignorum, nunc et alias accepimus quod vos parrochianos S. Martini et S. Mariæ ecclesiarum Beverlaci ad confessiones et quedam alia sacramentalia, quotiens ad vos ea occasione accesserint, indifferenter admittitis; ex quo provenit quod quidam, propriæ salutis immemores, decimarum et aliorum jurium ecclesiæ fraudatores, sine proprii sacerdotis licentia, ad vos confitendi gratia venientes, et se Deo ac ecclesiæ super hiis ad quæ ex precepto specialiter obligantur satisfecisse plenarie mentiuntur. Unde, quia concessionem nostram predictam non intelleximus adeo dilatasse quod obviaremus per hoc canonicis institutis, pluraque pericula, tam spiritualia quam temporalia, sicut timemus, proveniunt ex premissis, serenitatem vestræ sanctitatis affectuose requirimus in Domino Jesu Cristo, quatinus in potestate vobis in hac parte commissa tale tenere curetis, pacis pariter et honoris intuitu, moderamen, quod non nisi licentiatos a dictarum ecclesiarum vicario parrochianos aliquatenus

Pro eo quod super fructibus sacristiæ nostræ, quam in ecclesiæ Ebor. optinemus, inter vos et nos contractum habitum ac conventiones initas, quando a vobis de Anglia recessimus cum domino legato, quasdam difficultates ingerentes, retractatis, ac minime, prout nobis a procuratore nostro datum est intelligi, cui fidem adhibemus in hac parte, curatis observare; immo ad ecclesias dictæ sacristiæ nostræ facitis ad cautelam presentari, ut ipsam seu fructus ipsius pro precio minori quam nobiscum convenistis habeatis, non desinimus quam plurimum admirari; maxime cum in moderatione firmæ ipsius sacristiæ et termini solutionis ipsius vobis fuerimus annuentes, et super hoc vestram fecerimus penitus voluntatem, licet ab aliis exinde recipere plus possemus et habere. Quare paternitati vestræ reverenter supplicamus quatinus dictas conventiones et pacta firmiter et fideliter observetis, ita ut vobis et nobis utilitati cedat pariter et honori; et ne etiam fructus dictæ sacristiæ, pro quibus multo magis haberi consuevit quam modo reddere teneamini, mediantibus conventionibus supradictis, per vos non minuantur, set potius, tamquam per bonum et diligentem patremfamilias, augea[n]tur. Spem enim certam de vobis gerimus, tamquam de patre et domino, ut vos res nostras et negotia in omnibus quibus poteritis promovere debeatis, unde super premissis tantum facere velitis ut res nostræ et negotia non pereant, set potius valeant augmentari; alioquin non admiremini si procurator noster fructus dictæ sacristiæ aliis locaverit et ad firmam dederit, quibus nobis melius viderit expedire. Mallemus tamen quod apud vos potius quam apud reliquos remanerent, cum vos ceteris tamquam caput et dignior preferri debeatis.

DCCLII. Venerabili in Cristo patri et domino, R., Dei gratia S. Angeli diacono cardinali, W., permissione ejusdem, etc., cum recommendatione devota omnimodam reverentiam et honorem. Litterarum vestrarum lectio, cum narratione portitoris earum, reddit nos jocundos, pro eo quod vestræ dominationis specialitatem, de qua speravimus et speramus, concedi nobis liberaliter invenistis. Unde, quantumcumque per a[d]versitates temporum et contrarietates eventuum deprimamur, gratanter faciemus pro viribus quæ nobis vester nuncius viva voce suggessit, et procuratori nostro in Curia nunciamus inde plenius velle nostrum, sicut proculdubio vobis referet consequenter; set quantum possumus serenitatem vestram humiliter et devote deposcimus, quatinus super missi modicitate nobis parcatis, et gratiose dignemini recipere quod animo valde grato et ad majora benivolo est oblatum. Audistis, inquam, et certos vos esse credimus per relatus, quod a creationis nostræ tempore, turbatione regni et discordia procerum facientibus, compulsi sumus pro sedatione continue laborare; et quas expensas circuitus talis inter omnes terræ magnates requirat vestra discretio satis novit. Supervenit insuper terrarum sterilitas de anno in annum, quod nostra nobis sufficere non poterant, nec a nobis tenentibus, qui eodem laborabant defectu et per diversos predones fuere destructi. Poteramus suffragia mendicare, vel etiam vix petere quod specialiter debebatur, et inter hec attamen domos, terras et alia in maneriis nostris, quasi direptioni tradita, reparare. Acciderunt etiam decima domino regi concessa et contributiones diversæ, quæ multipliciter nos gravarunt. Et ecce,

[1] John de Pontayse, or Pontissara, collated to the archdeaconry of Exeter Dec. 22, 1274, was bishop of Winchester 1282—1304. He occurs again in No. 913 as one of the proctors sent by the province of Canterbury to Innocent V., who was Pope from Feb. 23 to June 22, 1276. He also held by dispensation the living of Welwick in Holderness (Papal Letters ii., 451); and it seems likely that the above letter from Modena was sent to the archbishop as an excuse for non-residence, hence its occurrence in these pages.

[1] In 52 Hen. iii. (1267-8) Maude, widow of Richard de Clare, earl of Gloucester, brought an action against John de Eyville and Gilbert de Clare, earl of Gloucester, concerning the church of Athelingflet. She claimed the presentation on the ground that Roger de Mubray, in whose guardianship the lands and body of the said John de Eyville were, when he was under age, presented John le Fraunceys in the time of Henry iii. Eyville, when of age, enfeoffed her husband in a bovate of land in Athelingflet and the advowson, and these had been assigned to her in dower. Eyville replied that the church was full, as Godfrey Giffard had been admitted on his presentation. The countess answered that the presentation was fraudulent, as Godfrey was the archbishop's brother, "qui ad favorem et promotionem ipsius magistri Godefridi, fratris ejus, ipsum magistrum admisit iiij^{to} die vel quinto post mortem ipsius (sic) le Fraunceys, infra quod tempus notitia de morte ipsius Johannis ad predictam commitissam propter brevitatem temporis non potest pervenire." In quo mandato inter alia continetur quod nos illud faciamus quod de trunco in generali concilio ordinatum extitit observari; videlicet, ut in singulis ecclesiis truncus ponatur uniclavus, tribus clavibus consignatus, prima penes episcopum, secunda penes ecclesiæ sacerdotem, tertia penes aliquem religiosum laycum conservandis; et ut in eo fideles quilibet, juxta quod Dominus eorum mentibus inspiraverit, suas elemosinas deponere in remissionem suorum peccaminum moveantur. Et in ipsis ecclesiis semel in ebdomada pro remissione peccatorum, et presertim offerentium elemosinas, certa die, quam tamen sacerdos pronunciet populo, missa publice decantetur. DCCCLXXXV. 6 kal. Martii, pontificatus nostri anno primo (Feb. 25, 1275-6). Laterani. [1] Innoce[n]tius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, venerabilibus fratribus, archiepiscopo Ebor., ejusque suffraganeis, et dilectis filiis, abbatibus, prioribus, decanis, archidiaconis, prepositis, et aliis ecclesiarum prelatis per Ebor. provinciam constitutis, salutem et apostolicam benedictionem. Fundamentum aliud ponere nemo potest preter id quod positum est, quod est Cristus Jhesus. Hic quidem, origo inchoantium et constantia robustorum, suo sanguine sanctam catholicam fundans ecclesiam, juxta prophetarum eximium [vaticinium],[2] in montibus sanctis ejus fundamenta constituit illius super se basibus solidatis, et mensuras mensus ejusdem tetendit non tam visibilem quam intelligibilem lineam super eam, hinc interdum ducta linea, hinc reducta, ut in sagena ecclesiæ ipsius electos includat, [et][2] ab illa reprobos, pro arbitrio ducentis et reducentis, excludat. Sic, sicut ille, terrarum celique sator, perpetua ratione solus omnia disponit et ordinat, inmotusque permanens in se ipso ire jubet singula, dat cuncta moveri juxta omnipotentiæ suæ nutum, cunctorum motus moderans et processus; sic singulis pro sua dividens voluntate, hunc vocat et eligit, hunc electum in electorum consortium non admittit. Hinc etiam, si faciat in omnibus mirabilia magna solus, super filios tamen hominum terribilis in suis consiliis innotescit. Quis enim, absque terrore, consideret quod gratia Domini solum a vocante conceditur, nec ex operibus obtinetur; quod indurat quos vult, et cujus vult, prestando ei misericordiam miseretur; quod vocat ea quæ non sunt tamquam ea quæ sunt, infirma mundi eligens ut fortia quæque confundat; quod hos exaltari permittit ad casum, alios vero humiliat ad ascensum; quod super occulta cordis spatia incomprehensibiles dimensionis hujusmodi lineæ protenduntur, ut repellantur aliquando qui secuturos se offerunt, et qui relaxari cupiunt admittantur. Hujus divisionis tremenda proculdubio hiis diebus, prout dividenti placuit, sorte in nostra promotione recepta, eoque terribiliori quo sublimiori atque onerosiori super nos distributionis ejusdem cadente DCCCCIII. 3 kal. Oct., anno 9, (Sept. 29, 1275). Ottele. W., etc., dilectis in Cristo filiis, priori et conventui de Boulton in Cravene, salutem, etc. Quia intendimus et ex causa, Domino disponente, nonis Octobris (Oct. 7) vestrum tam in capite quam in membris monasterium visitare, et super quibusdam articulis inquirere, ac ulterius facere ut jus erit, vobis mandamus, firmiter injungentes, quatinus omnes concanonicos vestros et conversos faciatis premissis, ut convenit, interesse.

Intendit dominus archiepiscopus inquirere an Willelmus Hog, prior de Boulton, conjurans aut conspirans fuerit, vel factiones componens aliquas ipsi archiepiscopo, aut aliis omnino.

Item intendit inquirere qui sint consentientes dicto priori, in conjurationibus et conspirationibus memoratis.

Item an dictus prior post suspensionem suam in (tempora-) libus et spiritualibus ministraverit quoquo modo.

Item an prior fecerit aliquod instrumentum communi sigillo signari, ex cujus consequentia oporteret bona domus distrahi et dilapidari, in prosequendo contra archiepiscopum aliquid conspiratum.

Item an decidant jura ecclesiæ, vel domus propter defectum prioris dampnum aliquod patiatur.

Item an prior contra archiepiscopum ingratitudinem commiserit, deferentem litteras suas a monasterio expellendo. Fatetur.

Item an prior propter suspensionem convolaverit ad vetitum examen in com. Ebor., de archiepiscopo querimoniam deponendo.

Item an dictus prior interpellaverit vicecomitem Ebor., quod interponeret partes suas ad liberationem suorum concanonicorum, qui per laicam potestatem a districtu ecclesiæ liberari non debent secundum canonicas sanxiones; sed ecclesiasticæ personæ in districtu laicali detenti consueverunt per sacram matrem ecclesiam hactenus liberari, et adhuc idem fiet, non obstante dicti prioris conamine, Domino disponente.

Anno ab incarnatione Domini M°CC°LXX° quinto, nonas Oct. (Oct. 7), inquisitione in prioratu de Boulton per nos, W., etc., canonice celebrata, inventus est W. Hog, prior ejusdem loci, per confessionem propriam, et quidam etiam sui concanonici similiter per eorum confessionem sunt inventi conjurantes et conspirantes nobis, contra canonica instituta. Visitation.

Item compertum est, per dicti prioris confessionem, quod post suspensionem suam, sui status reformatione non obtenta, fecit sibi ministrari in mensa cum tuallia, ut priori, et in camera prioris sicut prius.

Item compertum est, per ejusdem prioris confessionem, quod ipse ivit apud Ebor. ad procurandum liberationem suorum concanonicorum, in nostra custodia ad eorum correctionem existentium, per laicam potestatem, et convolando ad vetitum examen conquestus fuit de nobis, tam vicecomiti Ebor. quam aliis laicis; sic idem hoc plenius est confessus.

Item compertum est per ejusdem confessionem, quod fecit quoddam procuratorium sigillo capituli consignari, ad prosequendam conjurationem superius annotatam; per quod oportuit dilapidari bona monasterii et dampnabiliter dissipari.

Item compertum est quod, per ipsius desidiam et defectum, sunt quædam monasterii bona perdita et dilapidata, pro fidelitate comitisse Albemarliæ nondum facta.

Item compertum est quod prior, post visitationem nostram sibi et conventui demandatam, precepit canonicis suis, in virtute obedientiæ, quod in nostra visitatione in omnibus concordarent; et sic spiritualibus, non obstante nostra suspensione, immiscuit se ut prior.

Item compertum est, per ejusdem confessionem, quod a dicto prioratu fecit expellere quemdam famulum nostras litteras deferentem.

Et omnia premissa in subsidium confessionis dicti prioris sunt per testes, omni exceptione majores, legitime comprobata. Et, quia premissa tam in juris canonici quam ecclesiæ nostræ Ebor. redundant contemptum, Nos, in Dei nomine Amen, dictum Willelmum Hog, priorem, juris ordine in omnibus observato, deponimus, justitia exigente, et eum tamquam immeritum et dampnosum ab administratione sua sententialiter amovemus; decernentes ipsum fore ad prioratum alium transmittendum. Actum die et loco supradictis, cum continuatione diei proximo subsequentis.

eum, cum decantatione Te Deum laudamus et campanarum pulsatione, ante majus altare; quem, ibidem prostratum et orantem post orationem, ut moris est, factam, ad osculandum idem altare deduximus. Hæc, igitur, venerandæ paternitati vestræ significando (sic) duximus, et supplicamus ut, electo nostro gratiam confirmationis vestræ impendendo, sine moræ dispendio, si placet, quod vestrum est ulterius exequi dignemini. In cujus rei test. sanctæ paternitati vestræ has nostras litteras, sigillo nostro communi signatas, fecimus patentes. Dat. apud Falleye v idus Julii, A.D. M°CC°LXX° sexto. Valeat pia vestra paternitas in Cristo.

Confirmacio. In Dei nomine, Amen. Nos W., etc., auditis et intellectis meritis electionis factæ de fratre Thoma de Wathenowe in priorem conventualis ecclesiæ de Falleye, quia eam invenimus de viro ydoneo canonice celebratam, eam pontificali auctoritate duximus confirmandam, sibi in spiritualibus administrationem, et, quantum in nobis est, in temporalibus concedentes. Acta apud Suwelle iij idus Julii, pontificatus nostri anno decimo, (July 13, 1276).

Obedientia confirmati. Ego, frater Thomas de Wathenowe, electus et confirmatus canonice in priorem de Falleya, promitto vobis domino W., etc., ac successoribus vestris in Ebor. ecclesiam canonice intrantibus, et sanctæ sedi ecclesiæ memoratæ, obedientiam in canonicis mandatis, subjectionem et reverentiam.

Visitation of Felley.

DCCCCXII. Noverint universi quod nos, W., etc., inquisitionis et visitationis officium exercentes apud Falleyam vij idus Julii (July 9) A.D. M°CC°LXX° sexto, quia Radulphum, priorem ejusdem loci, certis de causis reperimus amovendum, ipsum in nomine Dei, Amen, ab administratione, dignitate et officio prioratus sententialiter amovemus.

Item, quia per Radulphum de Codenore, super fornicatione graviter diffamatum, scandalum turpiter suscitatur, precipimus quod idem Radulphus claustrum non exeat nisi in comitiva prioris vel supprioris, donec per gestum suum ac conversationem laudabilem et honestam hujusmodi scandalum sopiatur, ac a nobis gratiam meruerit exeundi.

Item, quia Robertus Barry quedam bona de domo subtraxit, et cum mulieribus frequentius conversatur, quorum pretextu inhonesta predicantur de ipso, volumus et precipimus, quod similiter in claustro se teneat pacifice, suum sequens conventum, in nullo existens officio, donec de sua melioratione[1] et vitæ honestate constiterit per indicia manifesta, et a nobis gratiam obtinuerit ampliorem.

Item, quia filius Willelmi de Dounham nimis frequentur ingreditur ad patrem suum, ac idem W., paterno ductus affectu, aliqua quæ domi possent prodesse committit filio, matri quæ in vicino habitat deferenda, sitque suspicio quod sicut canis ad vomitum ita redeat ad peccatum, precipimus quod idem una cum aliis claustrum non exeat, sed conventum sequatur ut decet, donec suspicio incontinentiæ hujusmodi penitus auferatur.

Et, quamvis alios de conventu super pluribus merito redarguere valeamus, hoc tamen sub spe meliorationis differimus ista vice, in Domino fiduciam obtinentes quod religio et honestas et obsequium Altissimo placabile vigebit decetero penes ipsos. Precipimus, itaque, in Domino ut suæ professionis regulam curent ex animo observare; in omnibus ipsos contingentibus taliter se habentes quod odor famæ suæ preterita vitia auferat et expurget, ut a Domino gratiam in presenti consequi mereantur et gloriam in futuro. Statuimus autem et precipimus, firmiter injungentes, quod prior, qui pro tempore fuerit, et conventus totaliter hæc predicta observent ac faciant observari, ne ad eorum neggligentiam vel contemptum artius puniendum oporteat nos manum apponere graviorem. Dat. die et anno predictis.

Letter to pope Innocent v from Robert, archbishop of Canterbury, John, bishop of London, and Nicholas, bishop of Winchester, and the other suffragans of the same archbishop, and from the clergy of the province of Canterbury, announcing the appointment of masters John de Ponteseye, Henry de Haukele and Walter de Lechlade as their proctors at the Roman Court.[2]

Complaints of the way in which the Tenth granted by the Council of Lyons, for the relief of the Holy Land, is levied.

Subjecta devotio filialis, a parentum administratoribus contra ritum posteris debitum pregravata, ingruente necessitate pluries paternam affectionem adire compellitur, congruum super oppressione hujusmodi remedium petitura. Clerus, siquidem, ecclesiæ Anglicanæ, cui prestatio decimæ curriculis sex annorum in Terræ Sanctæ subsidium convertenda per felicis recordationis G. papam in Concilio Lugdunensi[3] fuit nuper indicta, tantis et talibus inpresentiarum oneribus conculcatur, quod impositam sarcinam, secundum immensam et insolitam taxationem [a] modernis opinatoribus introductam ob imperitatem (sic) collectorum, absque detrimento perpetuo scandaloque dampnoso sustinere nequibit. Collectores, namque, ad eamdem decimam colligendam in diversis diocesibus assignati, ultra taxationem ecclesiasticorum [reddituum][1] beneficiorum, verum valorem multociens excedentem[2] ac collatorum et eisdem vicinantium juramentis firmatum, estimationis ipsius quartam, quandoque tertiam, frequenter taxationibus adiciunt prejuratis; sicque possessores, qui possessis integris [vix][1] poterunt sustentari, de non habitis vel habitis decimam prestare coguntur. Ab eisdem etiam estimatoribus genus mirabile taxandi mirabile reperitur. Beneficiatus, autem, in illis ordinibus constitutus quos beneficii sui cura requirit, et eidem [etiam] beneficio personaliter obsequens, postquam verum valorem fructuum annuorum ecclesiæ juratus edixerit, tantam quantitatem summæ juratæ tenetur adjungere quantam capellanus pro suis stipendiis in eodem beneficio recipere consuevit. Et, si plures presbiteri, ob amplam parochiam, forsitan obsequantur eidem, decimam illius quod in pecunia numerata, nomine stipendiorum, ipsi capellani recipiunt, prestare compellitur ecclesiæ rector invitus. Ex eo, etiam, insolito modo taxandi premissis graviora contingunt. Subditi etenim, redditibus suis taxandis sacramento astricti, cum sub debito juramenti certam summam prefinire cogantur, et asserere bonorum valorem non excedere summam illam, aut veram estimationem excedunt,[3] ut suam conscientiam illesam conservent, et sic decimam illius quod in bonis nullatenus reperitur indebite compellimur exsolvere; aut citra verum valorem nonnunquam moratur, pro eo quod, secundum fertilitatem et sterilitatem diversorum annorum, estimatio reddituum variatur, ubi certitudinem aliquam peritissimus dicere formidaret; et ita frequentius proprii redditus estimator scrupulum conscientiæ non evadit, set primitus notam perjurii, et postmodum irregularitatis maculam, latenter incurrit. Quamobrem murmur communiter est in clero, qui per taxationem alias inauditam in immensum gravatur, et tumultus in populo, qui, reddituum ecclesiasticorum ignarus, clericis generaliter perjurii reatum impingunt. Ex hiis, sane, verisimiliter est verendum ne tale scandalum apud laicos generetur, quo, ipsi clerum ecclesiæ Anglicanæ perjuriis [et] irregularitatibus, interdicti, suspensionis et excommunicationis involutum sententiis, Proniores, enim, esse creduntur ad ipsa solvenda quæ in auxilium Terræ Jherosolimitanæ pro communi salute poscuntur, si prestantibus vetus consuetudo servetur. Nam in exaction speciali, a qua secundum legitimas sanctiones persona nullius eximitur nec domus etiam principis habetur immunis, opinatores insuper destinati functionum eamdem veterem consuetudinem exequi et exercere tenentur.

Injunctions for the correction of a house of Canons.

[1] Although it is not stated for what House these injunctions were made, it is likely that they refer to the Austin Canons of Felley in Nottinghamshire, which was the object of the archbishop's sollicitude in Nos. 911, 912 and 916. However that may be, the House in question was peopled with canons and ruled by a prior, which is consistent with the supposition that the House was Felley.

recipiant et inde plene respondeant coram priore et senioribus de capitulo; proviso quod singuli eis respondeant de singulis expensis, ita quod compotus sit integer et minime dividatur, quod audito compoto manifestetur status domus veraciter in conventu. Quod duo de discretioribus canonicis, vel unus cum celerario, mittantur ad singula maneria domus ad videndum instaurum, et qualiter omnia conserventur; in omnem eventum de statu singulorum plenius eis constet. Quod celerarius [peragat] suum of[f]icium, et ministri domus ei obediant sicut decet. Quod provideatur de debitis domus solvendis. Quod prior in majoribus negotiis, utpote in emptionibus, venditionibus, et traditionibus terrarum, ac aliis majoribus negotiis, utatur consilio conventus et maxime seniorum; proviso quod nulla signetur scriptura sigillo conventus super alienationibus, traditionibus, vel aliis magnis contractibus, nisi prius tractetur in conventu communiter de eadem, et non nisi omnibus consentientibus vel majori parte conventus. Quod bona pertinentia ad fabricam ecclesiæ alicui discreto et benivolo committantur, ut ecclesia melius cooperiatur, ne per distillationem pluviæ pereat, sicut jam cepit. Quod domus infirmariæ cooperiantur. Quod cantariæ pro defunctis, ad quas obligatur monasterium, fiant decetero sicut fuerant ab initio constitutæ. Quod silentium melius solito observetur. Quod non fiat discursus secularium in infirmaria sicut hactenus. Quod infirmi decetero melius procurentur, et provideatur eis secundum infirmitatum quorumlibet qualitatem, quominus ad illicita manus extendere compellantur. Quod in refectorio non admittantur hospites ita passim sicut hactenus, et maxime minus honestæ personæ. Quod elemosina melius custodiatur decetero, colligatur et distribuatur. Quod canonicus, nobis insciis restitutus de novo, non restituatur ad locum suum plenarie, nisi peracta penitentia et de nostro consensu, ne facilitas veniæ pariat incentivum peccandi. Hæc autem omnia supradicta precipimus in virtute obedientiæ corrigi infra mensem.

Further injunctions

In nomine Domini, Amen, etc. Compertum est per inquisitionem, factam ut decuit in conventu, quod ea quæ in proxima visitatione nostra tam ore quam littera corrigi precepimus et servari, in nostri contemptum et non modicum domus dispendium animarumque periculum, adhuc penitus remanent incorrecta, immo ex pernicioso negglectu inobedienter videntur esse rejecta, maxime cum excessus pristinos hactenus continuari pateat evidenter. Ob quod prius injuncta, secundum quod ea in scriptis dedimus, volumus recitari et ea per singula precipimus observari, contemptum premissum taliter puniendo, ut scilicet ad honestatem et decorem (sic) ordinis et carnalium affectuum repressionem, carnibus in refectorio secundis feriis non utantur; et, donec omnia sic negglecta ad statum debitum reducantur, semel singulis mensibus in secunda feria presens scriptura, una cum priori, publice coram omnibus in capitulo perlegatur. Majores, autem, et quos invenerimus in hac parte decetero contemptores, gravius ratione previa puniemus. Ad hæc, quia scriptum est, Væ soli,[1] et regulares maxime vitæ suæ decet habere contestes, precipimus quod canonici, cum ad visitandum amicos exierint, sine concanonico non incedant. Item, ut septa monasterii a discursu tam regularium quam aliorum melius conserventur, precipimus quod muri, sepes, et fossata circa curiam et gardinum citra yemem reparentur, ita quod non pateat alicui transitus per eadem. Item, injungimus priori et subpriori, quod canonicos de levitate suspectos faciant decetero artius custodiri, ne pro suæ voluntatis arbitrio sicut hactenus evagentur, et per insinuationem clamosam in dedecus congregationis, super hujusmodi strictius procedere compellamur. Ceterum, quia expositis articulis fratri Hugoni de Farendon coram toto conventu, videlicet quod idem Hugo suscitator est discordiarum et litium inter fratres et intollerabilis, quod etiam composuit famosum libellum de nobis, archiepiscopo, priore suo, et aliis de conventu, diligenti inquisitione prehabita, compertum est quod idem Hugo intollerabilis est, rixosus et perniciosus socius inter fratres, et de sua furia valde timetur, et quod de sui correctione quasi ab omnibus desperatur; de famoso, vero, libello, [quia] tum per confessionem ejusdem, tum per inquisitionem legitimam plene liquet, decernimus ipsum Hugonem sicut hactenus custodiri, donec, deliberatione prehibita ac contritione ejus et melioratione visa plenius et experta, de eo secundum sua merita aliter duxerimus ordinandum. Volumus tamen quod prior canonicis suis indulgeat quod ipsum, causa solatii et salutis animæ, possint aliquociens visitare; ita, tamen, quod non detur inde materia conspirandi. Servantibus, autem, premissa gratiam repromittimus et honorem; non servantibus, vero, penam condignam pro meritis comminamur.

DCCCCXVI. Anno ab incarnatione Domini M°CC°LXX° sexto, vij idus Julii (July 9), facta inquisitione contra Radulphum, priorem de Felleye, super certis articulis sibi editis et in scriptis, videlicet an domum obligasset pro debito alieno, an fidejussisset seu alias obligasset domum similiter pro debito alieno; an correctiones fecisset in capitulo ut deberet; an seruram rupisset, ubi sigillum commune erat inclusum, contra voluntatem conventus; an manus violentas injecisset in concanonicum vel conversum, et si sic, an divina postea celebrasset vel alias immiscuit se divinis; an per desidiam vel incuriam domus qualitercumque passa fuerit lesionem. Compertum est, tam per confessionem dicti prioris quam per testes juratos et examinatos, bona domus tum per fidejussionem tum per obligationem dilapidata et domum damnificatam; et hoc etiam per facti evidentiam satis constat. Item, compertum est quod idem prior in Alanum, concanonicum suum, manus injecit temere violentas, et nichilominus immiscuit postea se divinis. Item, compertum est quod seruram fregit temere prelibatam contra voluntatem conventus. Item, compertum est quod idem prior non facit correctiones in capitulo ut deberet; nec est sufficiens illud officium sustinere, propter debilitatem suam et senium ac senectam. Quia, igitur, nos, Walterus, permissione, etc., tenemur statum dictæ domus, prout nobis possibile fuerit, in melius reformare, auditis et intellectis hiis quæ superius sunt expressa,—In Dei nomine, Amen, dictum priorem deponimus et eum a sua administratione sententialiter amovemus; injungentes conventui quod alium ydoneum eligat in priorem, qui sciat et valeat, tam in temporalibus quam spiritualibus, domum ut convenit gubernare.

Articles against Ralph, prior of Felley.

Prior deposed by the archb.

Item, facta visitatione et inquisitione, compertum est, quod Radulphus de Kodenore habet quamdam concubinam apud Anesleye, de qua suscitavit prolem; per quod religionis honestas dehonestatur et scandalum turpiter suscitatur. Cum igitur nostrum sit huic morbo pontificali auctoritate remedium adhibere, precipimus quod idem Radulphus decetero non exeat claustrum suum nisi in comitiva prioris vel supprioris, donec scandalum auferatur et a nobis gratiam debitam meruerit obtinere. Et quamquam eundem possemus merito gravius condempnare, de melioratione[2] sua et honestate futura firmam spem et fiduciam reportantes, sibi parcendum duximus ista vice.

Ralph of Codnor, a canon, found guilty of immorality.

bona domus subtraxit, sicut constat conventui, et quod cum mulieribus consuetudinem habuit inhonestam, et liberos suscitavit; et quod unam habet apud Notingham concubinam noviter impregnatam. Et, quia per hoc scandalum nequiter generatur, volentes contra hoc remedium adhibere, precipimus quod idem claustro suo adhereat pacifice in futurum, donec de sua melioratione et vitæ suæ honestate constiterit per indicta manifesta, et gratiam exeundi a nobis meruerit optinere. Et, quia inhonestum est quod taliter diffamatus in spiritualibus subprioratus curam gerere debeat, ipsum a subprioratus officio amovemus. Et, quamquam super aliis quæ non sine interjectione verecundiæ possumus recitare, punire possemus et graviter condempnare, ipsius tamen punitionem expectando, si velit honestius se habere, nostro adhuc arbitrio reservamus.

His punishment.

Will. of Dunham found guilty of immorality and taking goods of the convent.

Item, compertum est quod Willelmus de Dunham de Rosa, muliere quadam, filium suscitavit, quia frequenter ingreditur domum, et ea quæ ibi potest adquirere defert matri suæ, quæ habitat in vicino, et suspicio est quod dictus Willelmus per filium suum intermedium copiam habeat matris suæ, et quod, sicut canis ad vomitum, redeat ad peccatum. Ne, igitur, religionis honestas per talem insollentiam penitus corruat et succumbat, precipimus quod idem claustrum suum non exeat, donec suspicio incontinentiæ penitus auferatur. Quod si precepto nostro presumpserit contraire, ipsum ad aliud monasterium transferemus, et ipsum etiam alias puniemus quod alii delinquere decetero formidabunt.

His punishment.

Et, quamquam alios de conventu possemus merito condempnare, eorum tamen punitionem sub spe meliorationis adhuc nostro arbitrio reservamus. Quod si quis ex nunc tam audax[et] temerarius inventus fuerit, quod a domo sua sine prioris sui licentia recedat, et temere pervagetur, et in rebus nugatoriis tempora sua consumat, religionis morem tali facto perperam et bonæ famæ odorem in animæ suæ periculum denigrando, ipsum a domo sua tanquam arborem infructuosam curabimus extirpare et expellere, sine spe funditus redeundi.

Item totus[1] conventus unanimi assensu renunciavit conjurationi et conspirationi factæ contra archiepiscopum.

Examination of Roger of Ingoldby, subprior.

Frater Rogerus de Ingoldeby, subprior, juratus et examinatus, dicit quod conjuratio et conspiratio facta fuit per priorem contra archiepiscopum, quia per verba inductiva dicendo, Videbo quis juravit, et postea comminando dixit, Videbo quis voluerit consentire. Et conventus præ timore quodam juravit, et iste juratus dicit quod contra conscientiam suam juravit. Item dicit quod prior post suspensionem ministravit in omnibus sicut prior, eo excepto quod non ingrediebatur chorum, capitulum, nec refectorium, sedendo in loco prioris, set in parliamento se habuit sicut prior. Item, juratus et examinatus dicit quod quoddam procuratorium fuit communi sigillo signatum ad prosequendum negotium inchoatum, et si illu[1] negotium fuisset prosecutum secundum quod extitit contra archiepiscopum conspiratum, domus confusa fuisset irremediabiliter et destructa. Item dicit quod per defectum pricris est[2] domus dampnificata usque ad xij marcas, tum in expensis, tum in equo dato, tum in pecunia numerata,[3] pro eo quod non accessit ad comitissam Albemarliæ pro fidelitate facienda pro terra de Harewode. Item dicit quod prior precepit quod deferens litteras archiepiscopi expelleretur a domo. Requisitus qualiter hoc scit, dicit quod prior hoc sibi retulit, et injunxit ei quod inquireret quis eum ad hospitium recepisset. Item dicit quod prior adivit vicecomitem Eboracensem et escaetorem ac alios, ut conquereretur de archiepiscopo, et quod liberaret canonicos per laicam potestatem.

Visitatus et examinatus dicit quod obedientiarii nimium morantur aliquando in suis officiis, et nimium evagantur, ita quod divinum officium prepeditur.

ignorat, quia didicit ex relatu quorumdam. Item dicit quod Alexander le Neyr, monachus de Seleby,[1] suscitavit prolem de Nalle pistrice, vij annis elapsis, nec postea recidivavit, ut credit. De decimis et appropriatione concordat cum prejurato. Dicit quod ecclesia dedicatur, et non habet vicariam. Dicit etiam quod Fratres Minores et Predicatores sepe veniunt et predicant, et honeste recipiuntur a monachis.

Robert of Tickhill, chaplain.

Robertus de Tikhille, capellanus, juratus, etc., concordat de Amicia supradicta cum Alexandro prejurato; adiciendo quod suscitavit prolem ex ea, et conjugata est, et hoc habet ex relatu aliorum; et quidam dicunt quod eam adhuc cognoscit, et quidam quod non. Iste et predictus Thomas inventi sunt irregulares, eo quod, a non suo episcopo ordinati, ante ratificationem administrarunt.

Adam, a clerk.

Adam, clericus, conjugatus, juratus, etc., concordat de muliere cum prejuratis. Dicit etiam quod Thomas, monachus, tenet ecclesiam ad firmam pro LX marcis, sive tantum reddit ad coquinam. De decimis stipendiariorum et perceptione denariorum B. Petri concordat cum prejuratis. Dicit quod multi intestati decesserunt hoc anno, quorum nomina ignorat.

John, a clerk

parochialis, juratus, etc., dicit quod servitium Dei bene fit et honeste et secundum Ebor., et dicit quod duo sunt presbiteri, set unus per abbatem et alius per quendam parochianum qui eum conducit. Est ibi unus clericus tantummodo. Dicit quod Johannes, frater abbatis, diffamatus est de Mabilla vidua; an sit correctus ignorat. Item dicit quod Alexander, armiger domini Godefridi de Dautre, diffamatus est de Alicia Coke, quæ impregnata est de eo, sicut dicitur; et ceteri de abbatia sunt bonæ famæ. Item dicit quod de diffamatione monachorum nichil audivit post inquisitionem magistri Gileberti de S. Liffardo. Dicit quod dictus Alexander solet esse incorrigibilis; nescit si adhuc sit. Dicit quod ecclesia B. Germani in villa est capella; consuevit tamen ibi esse baptisterium aliquo tempore, set postea amotum fuit usque in monasterium monachorum, nescit tamen cujus auctoritate. Dicit quod abbas percipit in villa de denariis B. Petri circiter x solidos, de quibus nichil solvit. De stipendiariis percipientibus dim. marcam vel minus, recipiunt decimam, tamen ad oblationes eos non astringunt. Dicit quod nullus capellanus vadit ad sinodum, quia monachus quidam vadit ibidem pro omnibus. Dicit quod duo pauperes, vir et uxor, submersi fuerunt, scilicet, Henricus de Arnewy et Agnes, uxor ejus; plus debent quam habebant. Item Walterus Stoyl decessit cum eisdem eodem infortunio, et plus habuit in bonis quam alii. Ista capella non est dedicata, nec altare; nec habet cimiterium, quia parochianorum cadavera sepeliuntur in cimiterio magni monasterii. Iste ordinatus est in Hybernia, set dominus archiepiscopus Walterus de Grey ratificavit ordinem; set litteram inde non habet, unde dimissus est suæ conscientiæ. Dicit quod ista capella non solvit procurationem, et habet alteragium ad firmam pro xviij marcis.

Thomas, capellanus, juratus et examinatus dicit quod bene fit servitium in ista capella, et in omnibus prescriptis concordat cum prejurato. Adicit tamen quod quidam diffamator est domini archiepiscopi, dicens ipsum fuisse conjugatum et propter hoc adivit curiam Romanam; set nomen ipsius diffamatoris ignorat. Adicit etiam quod abbas diffamatus est de quadam muliere, tamen per quosdam de commonachis suis.

Dominus Gilebertus de Lyndeseye, juratus et examinatus, concordat de diffamatione abbatis cum prejurato; nomen mulieris ignorat. Rogerus de Kelseye, monachus, diffamatus est de Evote, conjugata, quæ excitavit eundem monachum per istum, ne ulterius veniret in locum, ubi scandalum vel suspicio posset oriri. De ceteris premissis nichil scit.

Dominus Thomas de Eyton, laicus, juratus, etc., dicit de germano abbatis cum prejuratis; adiciens ipsum esse conjugatum, et quod continuat alterum adulterium cum pluribus. Dicit etiam quod Alexander Flatting, monachus, in boscis, campis et alibi miscet[1] se meretricibus, et Cristina Bouere sepe habet accessum ad eum, et sepe cognoscitur ab eo. De Rogero de Keleseye concordat cum prejurato. Dicit de abbate quod diffamatus est, nescit tamen de qua.

Simon, laicus, filius Dreri, juratus, etc., de predictis nichil scit.

Ricardus de Belam, laicus, juratus, etc., concordat cum proximo jurato, quia nichil scit.

Radulphus del Hul, juratus, etc., nichil scit.

Ricardus Othendel, laicus, juratus, etc., concordat [2][de germano [3]abbatis] cum dicto Thoma de Eyton prejurato, adiciens quod una fuit femina Radulphi de Haubon', et vocatur Mabilia, et altera vocatur Johanna, et altera Agnes de Multri, quam dimisit duobus annis elapsis. Alexander Niger,[4] monachus, tenet Cristinam Bouere et Agnetem filiam Stephani, de qua suscitavit prolem, et quamdam mulierem nomine Anekous, de qua suscitavit vivam prolem apud Crol, et aliam apud Sneyth quæ vocatur Nalle, et alias infinitas apud Eboracum et Akastre et alibi, et quasi in qualibet villa unam; et fetidissimus est, et recte modo captus fuit cum quadam muliere in campis, sicut audivit. Dicit etiam quod abbas diffamatus est a monachis super incontinentia.

Wille Pinhous de germano concordat cum prejuratis, et de Alexandro similiter.

David ad Aulam, laicus, juratus, etc., de germano abbatis et de dicto Alexandro monacho concordat cum Ricardo Othendel prejurato. Dicit etiam quod abbas diffamatus est quod mulierculas habet in maneriis suis et in villa de Seleby. Item dicit quod Petrus de Brayton,[5] monachus, diffamatus est quod tenet Aliciam Barkere conjugatam. Adicit quod abbas suscitavit prolem de filia Walteri Potman, et est circa x ebdomadarum.

DCCCCXX. 10 kal. Aug., (July 23), 1262. Scroby. Fo. 145a.
Ordinance by archb. Godfrey of Ludham concerning certain rights of the nunnery of Wallingwells in the churches of Carlton-in-Lindrick, Cantley and Mattersey.

Universis Cristi fidelibus, etc. G., miseratione divina Ebor. archiepiscopus Angliæ primas, salutem, etc. Cum Agnes, priorissa, et moniales de Wallendewell' super ecclesiis de Karleton, Canteley et Maresey, in quibus jus patronatus habebant, se et ecclesias ipsas ac totum jus quod eis in ecclesiis eisdem competit,[1] ordinationi nostræ pure et absolute submiserint, concedentes et cum instantia supplicantes quatinus, habentes Deum præ oculis, de ecclesiis eisdem ad honorem Dei et animarum com[m]odum ordinemus; nos advertentes quod improba potentium ambitio et malicia temporis invalescens moniales ipsas, in vacationibus ecclesiarum earumdem, ad animarum regimen ydonearum personarum electionem habere liberam non sinebant, quodque domus ipsarum monialium, bonis temporalibus destituta, paupertate nimia premebatur; de expresso assensu et voluntate domini Warini de Dyva, rectoris ecclesiæ de Karleton, qui ordinationi nostræ super eadem ecclesia similiter et totaliter se subjecit, diligenti et sollempni tractatu cum jurisperitis habito, in nomine Trinitatis ordinamus quod moniales ipsæ ad sui sustentationem in proprios usus imperp. habeant et percipiant decimas garbarum de xviij bovatis terræ in parrochia de Karleton, de quibus Rogerus Cocus tenet unam bovatam, Amabilis de S. Quintino j bov., Normanus de Warwyke duas bov., Galfridus de Warewyke j bov., Rogerus Ruffus j bov., Cecilia dicta Nutrix j bov., Arnulphus le Nunneman j bov., Dobin de Hundegate j bov., Jordanus Godman j bov., Thomas filius Arnulphi j bov., Dobin de Swainesthorpe j bov., Johannes de Wellebec j bov., Willelmus filius Nicholai et Alicia soror ejus j bov., Ricardus de Hoderode j bov., Henricus de Langalde j bov., Thomas Anglicus j bov., Benedictus Buthun j bov. Ordinamus insuper quod dictæ moniales a prestationibus omnimodarum decimarum, tam majorum quam minorum, de terris et ratione terrarum quas in dominico tempore hujus ordinationis in parrochia ecclesiæ de Karleton habebant, penitus sint immunes. Volumus autem quod prefatus rector, et quicumque eidem ecclesiæ de Karleton ad regimen animarum prefectus fuerit, omnia onera ecclesiæ sustineat, excepto quod moniales ipsæ extraordinaria onera agnoscent pro quarta portione. Et, quia per concessiones hujusmodi in usus proprios plerumque ledi solet jus ecclesiæ cathedralis, in recompensationem lesionis p sius advocationes ecclesiæ de Karleton, excepta portione predicta, et ecclesiæ de Kanteley, plene Ebor. ecclesiæ reservamus. Ordinamus quod archiepiscopus Ebor., qui pro tempore fuerit, de ecclesia de Karleton, salva portione prefata, et ecclesiæ de Kanteleye predictis, cum eas vacare contigerit, de personis ydoneis provideat, prout animarum saluti viderit expedire. Solutio etiam pensionum xx^{ti} solidorum de ecclesia de Karleton et ij marcarum de ecclesia de Kanteley, quas prefatæ priorissa et moniales ab ecclesiis ipsis percipere solebant, auctoritate hujus ordinationis cesset in posterum et penitus evanescat. Priorissa autem et moniales supradictæ ad ecclesiam de Maresey, de consilio et assensu archiepiscopi, qui pro tempore fuerit, infra mensem a tempore vacationis personam ydoneam presentabunt; alioquin licebit archiepiscopo illa vice de ecclesia ipsa pro suæ voluntatis arbitrio libere providere. Si vero super jure patronatus alicujus ecclesiarum predictarum contigerit contentionem aliquam suscitari, priorissa et moniales ipsæ litem usque ad finem negotii cum sumptibus archiepiscopi prosequentur. Reservamus autem nobis potestatem ordinationem ipsam corrigendi et mutandi pro nostræ voluntatis arbitrio, qualitercumque ecclesiarum utilitati et animarum saluti viderimus expedire. Quod si ista ordinatio, aliquo casu contingente, processu temporis infirmetur, volumus quod res ad statum pristinum revertatur, ita quod jus monialium quod in ecclesiis prefatis, tam quo ad patronatus quam quo ad pensiones predictas, ante tempus ordinationis istius habebant, eis in omnibus preservetur.

Item compertum est quod quedam camera apud Fresch' inutiliter est constructa, pro qua re conventus plurimum est turbatus; unde inhibemus ne decetero domus aliquæ construantur nisi de assensu saniorum et seniorum de conventu; proviso quod opera magis domui necessaria preponantur; quod si secus fiat, constructorem graviter puniemus; et pro constructione cameræ memoratæ penam reservamus nostro arbitrio infligendam.

Item compertum est quod subprior de facili provocatur et in capitulo suos fratres irato animo aliquociens pertractat, contra officium caritatis; quod decetero fieri prohibemus, injungentes sibi, sub pena amotionis sui status, quod cum omni moderantia et modestia erga suos fratres se habeat in futurum, eos informans in spiritu lenitatis verbo pariter et exemplo. Subprior to keep his temper.

Item compertum est quod celerarius nutrit equos aliquociens de communi, et de ipsis negociatur secundum quod faciunt mercatores, quod religionis non congruit honestati; quod, de cetero sub pena amotionis sui status, fieri prohibemus, et eo magis pretextu quod inter ementis vendentisque commercium difficile est non intervenire peccatum; et istam inhibitionem et penam ad alios obedientiarios in delicto consimili extendemus. Cellarer not to deal in horses.

Item compertum est quod idem celerarius non benigne alloquitur suos fratres nec etiam extraneos, ut deceret; propter quod domus multorum gratiam demeretur. Et, quia convenit suo officio presidenti extraneos et alios placare per verba mollia et mellita, injungimus ei, sub pena premissa, quod decetero cum mansuetudine et omnimoda benignitate se habeat erga omnes, ut per suum factum et gestum domus valeat a forensibus, ut est opus, gratiam promereri. And to be more civil to his brethren & strangers.

Item compertum est quod custos fabricæ de officio suo, nec de suis sumptibus in partibus transmarinis, et etiam citra, factis, hactenus compotum non reddidit ut deceret, nec se habet in suo officio secundum quod esset fabricæ oportunum, ob quod precipimus quod, recepto compoto ab eodem, sibi dicta obedientia auferatur, et alii qui sciat et valeat dictum officium gubernare ab isto die post mensem utiliter assignetur. Keeper of the works to lose his office for not keeping accounts.

Item compertum est quod gardinarius extra domum nimium evagatur et suum non regit officium ut deberet; propter quod eundem a dicto officio decernimus amovendum, precipientes quod loco suo alius infra quindecim dies utiliter subrogetur. Gardener to lose his place for going abroad.

Item compertum est quod in camera veteris prioris fiunt confabulationes aliquociens inter fratres, et quod laici et alii seculares illuc confluunt nimis crebro, quod non congruit honestati; et, quia in hujusmodi confabulationibus et etiam confluentiis ac discursibus possent inutilia pertractari; volentes periculo in hac parte quatenus possumus obviare, No gatherings or talkings to be tolerated in the late prior's chamber.

The statutes of the archb. and his predecessor to be observed.

Item compertum est quod nostra vel etiam predecessoris nostri statuta non sunt ut congrueret observata, quod in nostri contemptum videtur non modicum redundare; et, licet super hoc contemptores possimus et etiam debeamus merito condempnare; volentes adhuc eisdem parcere mansuete, sub spe correctionis debitæ in futurum, punitionem differimus et ex causa; quod si aliquos decetero in hiis et in aliis invenerimus transgressores nostras comminationes curabimus effectui mancipare, ita quod eorum punitio metum incutiet animis plurimorum.

Custody of conventual seal.

Ad hec, quia expedit quod sigillum commune fidæ custodiæ committatur, volumus et precipimus quod tres de sanioribus et senioribus de conventu ipsius custodiæ deputentur; ita quod quilibet eorum habeat unam clavem, et etiam habeat prior quartam; proviso quod posthac nulla cum ipso sigillo littera consignetur nisi in presentia totius conventus littera prius recitata; et hoc fieri precipimus sub pena excommunicationis, quam ex nunc in contravenientes proferimus in hiis scriptis.

Statutes to be read four times a year on chapter.

Et, quia volumus quod tam nostra quam predecessoris nostri statuta salubriter edita singulorum mentibus ac memoriæ commendentur, volumus et precipimus quod eadem quater in anno in capitulo plenarie recitentur, ut eo efficacius fratres inhibita declinent et permissa sectentur.

Actum die et anno supradictis. Per premissa vero vel aliquod premissorum non intendimus regulæ B. Augustini in aliquo derogare.
